GUJARAT LANDSLIDE, HIMACHAL STUNNER

Gujarat BJP equals Left Front's Bengal record of seven consecutive terms ● Cong wrests HP ● AAP qualifies for national party status

SHAHID FARIDI @ New Delhi

BRAND Modi registered a historic victory in the Gujarat elections where it shattered all previous records and confined the opposition Congress to its worst ever tally, which is insufficient to even claim the post of leader of opposition in the state Assembly. To get the post, the Congress needs a minimum of 19 seats in the 182-member House, but has only 17.

The other state that went to polls — Himachal Pradesh — saw the Congress wresting power from the BJP. The grand old party won 40 seats against the BJP's 25. Unpopularity of Chief Minister Jairam Thakur and the Congress party's election promises of restoring the old pension scheme, free 300 units of power and ₹1,500 allowance to women saw the state continuing the decades old tradition of not re-electing a sitting government.

The BJP under the leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who addressed 31 rallies in Gujarat, won 156 seats and is set to form a government for the seventh consecutive term, equaling the Left Front record in West Bengal. The party also surpassed its previous best performance of winning 127 seats in the state in 2002, and bettered Madhavsinh Solanki's all-time record of winning 149 seats for the Congress in 1985.

Such was the popularity of the BJP in this election that it swept the tribal and minority seats, which were considered Congress strongholds before this election. The Congress citadel of Saurashtra, which helped bring the party within striking distance of power in the 2017 election, also came crumbling down under the BJP's onslaught.

As celebrations broke out, the party's Gujarat president C R Patil announced that Chief Minister Bhupendra Patel will take his oath of office on December 12. The ceremony will be attended by the prime minister, home minister Amit Shah and national president J P Nadda, besides a number of Union ministers and chief ministers.

Addressing party workers at the BJP's Delhi headquarters, Modi termed the Gujarat victory as the beginning of the golden period for new India. He said the BJP will deliver a developed India to the youth of the country by 2047. Nadda attributed the landslide to the prime minister's credibility and people's trust in his leadership. Amit Shah termed the victory as a rejection of those who do politics of hollow promises, freebies and appeasement. He said it shows the "unwavering faith of the public in Narendra Modi's development model".

As for the AAP, it garnered nearly 13% votes in Gujarat, bringing down the Congress share from 40% in the last election to 27%. The AAP's vote share catapulted it to the status of a national party.

GUJARAT ELECTION 2022 DECIDE

In Himachal, the Congress frontrunner for the post of chief minister, Kaul Singh Thakur, lost the election just like BJP's Prem Kumar Dhumal did while his party won the last election. Another senior Congress leader, Asha Kumari, who was also in the running for CM-ship, lost. The top contenders for the post now are state party president Pratibha Singh, senior MLA Sukhwinder Singh Sukhu, state working president Rajendra Rana, who had defeated Dhumal in the last election, former state president Kuldip Rathore, and leader of opposition in the outgoing House Mukesh Agnihotri.

BJP is people's first choice for growth: Modi

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

ELATED at the landslide victory of the BJP in his home state Gujarat, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday pitched for making India a developed nation by 2047.

Speaking to party workers at the BJP headquarters here on Thursday, Modi said the Gujarat election results have proved that the common man aspires to seeing India as a developed nation. "Put India first, demolish the faultiness and make the country a developed nation by 2024," Modi said, adding that youngsters have rejected divisive politics and voted for the BJP. "Whenever people want their aspirations fulfilled, the BJP comes as their first choice," he said, adding, "There is a clear message from the Gujarat result that only the politics of development will continue for the next 25 years, nothing else."

As for the Himachal Pradesh results, where the saffron party lost to the Congress, Modi said the Central government will continue to support the hill state as the BJP wants development in the state even as it will act as a constructive opposition party.

Will fix flaws and work hard, say Rahul, Kharge

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

AFTER its crushing defeat in the Gujarat Assembly elections, the Congress on Thursday said that it has accepted the mandate and "will rectify its shortcomings". Though the grand old party suffered a humiliating defeat in Gujarat, its win in Himachal Pradesh came as a huge relief.

On the Gujarat debacle, Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge said, "Victory and defeat happen in a democracy and it is not permanent. We'll continue to fight our battle. It is our ideological fight. It's a long journey and we'll rectify our shortcomings."

On the Himachal win, Kharge said the Bharat Jodo Yatra has contributed to its victory. He also credited Priyanka Gandhi Vadra and Sonia Gandhi for the victory in the hill state.

Former Congress chief Rahul Gandhi, who is leading the Bharat Jodo Yatra, said the party will continue to fight for the ideals of the country as well as the rights of the people of the state.

"We humbly accept the mandate of the people of Gujarat. We will reorganise and work hard," he said.

Safety of buses: MSRTC thanks Belagavi cops

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

AMID the ongoing border dispute between Karnataka and Maharashtra, the Belagavi police ensured safe passage of 145 buses of Maharashtra State Road Transport Corporation (MSRTC) and hundreds of passenger vehicles from Saundatti Yallammana Gudda pilgrim centre in Belagavi to Maharashtra. MSRTC officials have thanked the Belagavi police for giving them protection. Over 50,000 people from Karnataka, Maharashtra, Goa and Andhra Pradesh visited the temple during a fair organised at Shri Renuka Devi temple of Yallammana Gudda in Saundatti taluk on 'Hostila Hunnime'.

SP Sanjeev Patil said rumours were being spread on social media that Maharashtra vehicles passing through Saundatti were being attacked.

The assistant superintendent of MSRTC, Atul More, thanked Belagavi police for ensuring safe movement of buses carrying pilgrims. He said the devotees were able to pay obeisance to Goddess Renuka Devi without any difficulty and no untoward incident took place in Saundatti.

Cabinet nod to K'taka Youth Policy, stress on skill training

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE state cabinet on Thursday approved Karnataka Youth Policy which will focus on empowering youth in all sectors. The policy will stress on providing skill training to youth to address rising unemployment and also tackle problems of malnutrition, mental health and addiction among youth.

According to Youth and Sports Minister KC Narayana Gowda, for the first time such a comprehensive policy has been framed. "The policy will stress on issues youth are facing. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai will also present a Youth Budget in 2023," he said, adding that the policy also recommends a separate Directorate for Youth, with offices at taluk level," he said.

In October 2021, the state government had constituted a 13-member expert committee to frame the Karnataka Youth Policy.

Master plan for 8 city centres soon

MG Road, Brigade Road, Malleswaram & Indiranagar should be re-designed, says Bommai

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru:

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday announced that Bengaluru will soon have eight city centres in all eight directions. He said he has instructed the government officials of the departments concerned to prepare a master plan for this. "All the cities of the world have a city centre. However, it is unfortunate our city does not. Now, the state government has decided to fill this gap. The city centres to come up will involve in developing the metropolis in a well-planned model," he said.

Speaking at the inauguration of the Bengaluru Design Week Conference, inaugurated by Bengaluru Designers' Community, the CM said all eight zones will have eight established centres for which good road and rail network will be provided. The government is open to suggestions from designers for the projects and the most inspiring designs will be selected. New designs will not only make a difference but will have an impact, he said, adding, Bengaluru is home to art, culture, heritage, engineering, innovation and creativity but there is a need to bring them together. The result of this coordination must become the design of Brand Bengaluru.

Bommai said that there is a need to move forward with changing times. He said important roads like MG Road, Commercial Street, Brigade Road, Malleswaram and Indiranagar should be re-designed for the benefit of the people and for protecting the city's heritage.

He also announced that the state government will set up an innovation experience centre at NGEF premises of international standards which will give information about innovation and tourism. The museum will encourage young innovators and designers to derive inspiration. A tree park will also come up on the premises at NGEF. He added that efforts are being made to make the innovation experience centre a national and international tourist spot.

'Mandous' to bring rain to parts of K'taka

Bengaluru: The chilly morning and overcast sky were result of the cyclonic storm formation 'Mandous' over South West Bay of Bengal moving West Northwest on Thursday. TN and Andhra are expected to witness very heavy rainfall while certain parts of Karnataka are likely to see heavy rainfall. "The cyclone is expected to cross north Tamil Nadu on Friday evening and rain is expected in Bengaluru after landfall," tweeted Bengaluru Weather, a group tracking weather updates in the city. According to IMD, South Interior Karnataka including Bengaluru Rural and Urban districts will witness moderate to very heavy rainfall from Friday, and likely to see thunderstorms and lighting over the weekend.

KARTET results by next weekend: Min

Bengaluru: School Education and Literacy Minister BC Nagesh announced on Thursday that the results of the Karnataka Teacher Eligibility Test (KARTET) will be published by next weekend. KARTET was conducted on November 6 in two shifts, with a total of 3.32 lakh candidates writing the examination out of 3.61 lakh registered candidates. The final answer key published on November November 25.

DCET provisional answer key released

Bengaluru: KEA has released the provisional answer key for the Diploma Common Entrance Test. DCET was conducted on November 20, with the results likely soon. The examination's answer key can be accessed and downloaded from the KEA website. The exam allows for students to be admitted through lateral entry into second year engineering programmes in the state. This year, KEA took the decision to remove specific engineering disciplines.

RAPID ROAD PILOT PROJECT STARTS, REPORT IN 15 DAYS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

INAUGURATING the much-anticipated rapid road project on Thursday, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said that officials should find ways to reduce its cost, check for feasibility in 15 days, and submit a report.

He inaugurated the road at Binnamangala junction connecting 100 Feet Road Indiranagar, Old Madras Road and NGEF. The BBMP has undertaken work on the 375-m stretch on a pilot basis at CV Raman Nagar, and they are using the rapid road method instead of the usual white topping works.

"Whenever road development project is taken up, it creates problem for motorists, but in this technology, the work will be done faster. In white topping, the project takes time, traffic has to be diverted, resulting in snarls. With white topping work, it is difficult to break for other emergency works like digging. In this new technology, under which precast slabs are prepared at a different location and joined together, traffic flow can be normalised soon," Bommai said.

Over 20 tonnes of vehicles should be allowed on this road to assess its effectiveness, he said, adding that a report on the impact should be filed in two weeks, including precast slab strength, quality and cost effectiveness before the approval is given.

Regarding the rapid road project, BBMP engineer has earlier informed that precast tensioning concrete (laying of readymade slabs and connecting by steel cables of ether side and joints of each slab) can be fixed using cranes, and a stretch of 150m can be fixed in a day or two. The roads are expected to last at least four decades as per UltraTech Cement Limited which is the technology partner of BBMP in this pilot project, said an official.

A Palike engineer said that for 1 km of road, rapid road work is likely to cost around Rs9.3 crore which is over 30 per cent compared to white topping project.

AI eye to catch traffic violations at 50 junctions

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

LEVERAGING technology in traffic enforcement, the Bengaluru Traffic Police (BTP) have introduced an Intelligent Traffic Management System (ITMS) in which Artificial Intelligence (AI)-based cameras detect seven types of traffic violations and send challans to vehicle owners.

The ITMS, which was inaugurated by CM Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday, has been implemented at 50 important junctions across the city. The system consists of an AI-enabled solution with 250 Automatic Number Plate Recognition (ANPR) cameras and 80 Red Light Violation Detection (RLVD) cameras installed at these junctions. These cameras automatically detect violations and generate challans, which are then sent to violators via SMS and paper challans.

"BTP is taking several initiatives using technology in policing. The ITMS is one such initiative which enables contact-less automatic enforcement of traffic violations. The objective of ITMS is to automatically detect traffic violations in a contactless manner and send autogenerated challans to the violators with minimum human intervention. ITMS employs Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning to detect various traffic violations automatically," said Special Commissioner of Police (Traffic) MA Saleem.

"These cameras record violations round the clock, and the system is automated, which saves a lot of manpower that can be used for traffic management and regulation," Saleem added.

Meanwhile, CM Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday announced that five more new traffic police stations will be sanctioned in next 2-3 days.

Court rejects anticipatory bail of B'luru Urban DC

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

A magistrate court rejected the anticipatory bail plea of Bengaluru Urban DC K Srinivas, who have moved the court after the police had summoned him in connection with Chilume, an NGO, in the voter data theft case.

The Halasuru Gate police has been investigating the case after a complaint was filed by the BBMP, and had arrested 13 persons including the owners of Chilume.

Those who were arrested were first served summons, and "Anticipating the same, Srinivas had filed an anticipatory bail plea, whose hearing was reserved till December 8. The court has rejected his plea. He can approach the high court," said an officer from Halasuru Gate police station.

After the DC's bail plea was rejected, four BBMP revenue officers, who are in judicial custody, will find it difficult to get regular bail, he said.

On Wednesday, S Rangappa, Commissioner, BBMP, Administration, who has been suspended, appeared before the sleuths and submitted a written reply.

Both Srinivas and Rangappa, who were appointed as Additional Electoral Registration Officers, were held accountable and suspended by the Election Commission after a case of impersonation, and fake cards of booth-level officers and booth-level committees were found with the NGO hired by the BBMP. The cards were allegedly issued by BBMP Revenue officials from Chickpet, Mahadevapura and Shivajinagar.

Karanth Layout contracts to be awarded in a week

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) has finalised contracts for four packages of Dr Shivarama Karanth Layout, which has been approved during a board meeting, recently. The contracts will be awarded in a week.

Tenders for the Layout have been divided into nine packages for speedy completion. The Layout is being developed in 17 villages between Doddaballapur and Hesaraghatta in North Bengaluru at a cost of Rs 5,337 crore. This second biggest BDA Layout will have 28,000 sites on 3,546 acres and 12 guntas. "Contractor for four packages have been selected after completing the financial bid process, which will be awarded soon. For the remaining five packages, fresh tenders have been floated for which 11 bids have been received," a source said.

The packages finalised for a total cost of around Rs 1,300 crore are as follows: Package 2 to Amrutha Constructions; package 7 to SRC Constructions; package 8 to RCCL and package 9 to BSR Infra. "All of them have quoted less than 5 per cent above the upper limit fixed by BDA."

The packages are for putting in place civic utilities.

12 per cent discount for advocates

The BDA will offer 12% discount on its flats to advocates in Karnataka who are part of the Advocates Association, Bangalore. Its president Vivek Subbareddy told TNIE that over 200 lawyers were keen to buy them. The discount is applicable for the 2BHK flats at Kanminike and Komaghatta (priced between Rs 25 lakh and Rs 30 lakh) and 3BHK flats.

SC relaxes rules

The Supreme Court has relaxed rules for the BDA in connecting with allotment of sites to landlosers and auctioning. The BDA can auction intermediary sites or stray sites in its developed layouts, said a two-judge bench during a hearing pertaining to the cancellation of a site given to one Padmavathamma by BDA.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

09th December: Let me continue this week's look at Venus. Astrologers usually relate this planet to love, but there is a broader perspective. Love is not a simple emotion. It is linked to desire, passion and our deepest needs – and sometimes we love people who don't love us. This is why ancient traditions know that Venus sends passions out of control!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You may now tell business associates and anyone with whom you are financially connected to put up or shut up. But you must do so soon, before a number of planets remove your advantage by changing signs. Long-distance and overseas connections are opening, by the way, so stay alive to new opportunities.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You may still be in a bullish mood, buoyed up by the influence of aggressive Mars. It is good to be sure of your ground, yet nobody would advise you to be so confident that you overlook or ignore certain essential details. One word of warning, though - you could be throwing good money after bad.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Mercury is in such a supportive position that you may be sure that bad feeling will be avoided even if partners are still being frustratingly obtuse. Continue to press for firm agreement. The sooner you get partners committed and tied down, the better.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
All that has happened in the past will pale into insignificance beside the immense and profound changes which will be sweeping you before them later on. You are now entering a period of personal transformation which is going to find you discovering talents you never dreamt existed.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
The first few steps in a new friendship are often hesitant, even for you. However, people who come into your life now must be cultivated, for they will prove to be valuable allies in times to come. Even if you imagine that someone you meet is a rival, you may be mistaken.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Much has been written about the creative potential of this particular phase, not all of which has yet made sense. Today's planetary picture crystallises a number of very subtle trends, pointing you to a life that is both more satisfying and productive.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You must pay more attention to working partnerships for the simple reason that colleagues hold the key to your future. You may already have found that fresh light has been shed on formerly confused circumstances. Such clarity is most welcome, as I'm sure you'll agree.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
The Sun, Mercury and Venus have come to your assistance, lightening your load and relieving you of pressing domestic questions. It is looking increasingly likely that you will be saved by the prompt action of a friend, perhaps someone you have ignored.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
There are complications in the air. Although you may have to resign yourself to a continuing mystery, you have a choice as to whether to devote your time to work or family issues. Possibly the latter will be more enjoyable, although the former may be more necessary.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
As you have realised, there is little that you can do if you don't have the necessary funds. Joint financial affairs must now be settled, and deals must be signed and sealed. Otherwise you may find that you have run out of time, and that partners may decide to stand up for themselves.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
This is an intense period for those in the property market. Positive trends and obstacles compete for your attention, but after everything has been taken into consideration you may seem to be running on the spot. Perhaps you should just slow down and take a rest.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
By tradition this is a time of year when events should run in your favour, yet you cannot count on success unless you do your best, drum up support and leave no stone unturned in your drive to better yourself. You must, repeat must, consult partners before you take a controversial decision.

Woman's body found in sack on crowded train

Was found in unreserved coach of Bangarapet-SMVT MEMU special

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

A sack of mystery cargo was stashed away under the seat of a jam-packed passenger train coming from Bangarapet to Bengaluru on Tuesday night. A foul smell emanating from it forced a passenger to alert Railway Police that something was amiss.

The heavy, yellow sack was on one of the unreserved coaches of the Bangarapet-Sir M Visvesvaraiah Terminal, Baiyappanahalli MEMU Special (No. 06527), and had been dumped with other luggage. The train had departed from Bangarpet at 8.45pm and chugged into SMVT at 9.45pm.

As soon as the train reached, the Railway Protection Force (RPF) removed the heavy, unclaimed gunny sack. It contained the body of a woman in her early thirties, who is suspected to have been murdered, then wrapped in saris and a blanket, and folded to fit in.

There were clear ligature marks around the neck, a source at the spot said. "They clearly reveal that she had been strangled. The body was folded up to fit into the bag, which was dumped inside the coach to escape detection. The state forensic team visited the spot and collected evidence. The death appears to have taken place earlier in the day as the body was still in a fresh state. It was sent for postmortem, and investigations are on," the source said.

"The passenger who reached out to police was a railway employee travelling in the same compartment where the body was hidden. As soon as the train reached the station, the RPF pulled out the sack and alerted Government Railway Police (GRP) who reached post midnight and opened it," the source said.

"It appears to be a murder, and could be someone in the family circle. Usually, those who try to dispose of bodies place them on the railway tracks so that it is run over by trains and all evidence is destroyed. The fact that someone chose to cover it like this shows the person had some concern for the deceased," another source, familiar with railway investigations, said.

HC declines to quash FIR against actor Chetan

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court declined to quash the FIR against social activist and actor Chetan A Kumar on a complaint registered over his tweet on the worship of a tribal deity depicted in blockbuster 'Kantara', at Sheshadripuram police station here.

"Allegations are made against the petitioner as having made statements amounting to the commission of an offence under Section 505(2) (hurting religious sentiments) of IPC. Whether the statements made by him amount to an offence as contemplated under the said provision of IPC or not, is a subject matter of investigation," said Justice MI Arun, while dismissing Chethan's petition.

Challenging the crime registered by one Shivakumar, Chethan contended that he has not uttered any statement which would create or promote enmity, hatred or ill-will in society. He has merely expressed his opinion regarding worship of the tribal deity not being a part of the Hindu religion and that it is a fair comment and is academic in nature. Hence, it does not constitute an offence as contemplated under Section 505(2) of IPC, he pleaded.

In counter, Government Pleader K Rahul Rai contended that the allegations against the petitioner are a matter of investigation and only upon seizing relevant material, the police will be able to determine whether the latter has committed such an offence and a chargesheet will be filed only upon investigation. Therefore, the petition filed by the petitioner is premature, he argued.

The court observed that the police will not mechanically file a chargesheet without due investigation. The petitioner under the circumstances is always at liberty to move the appropriate court for obtaining the necessary bail and the same shall be considered by the concerned court in accordance with the law. As the matter is still under investigation, this court can't decide whether the allegations made against the petitioner constitute an offence. It is also needless to state that if the police decide to file a chargesheet against the petitioner after the completion of the investigation, the petitioner is always at liberty to move this court in accordance with law, the HC added.

CRIME PATROL

Four drug peddlers arrested

Bengaluru: Four drug peddlers, including a Nigerian, have been arrested by the Central Crime Branch (CCB), and MDMA, ganja and other types of drugs worth around Rs 22 lakh have been recovered. The CCB sleuths have filed cases against the accused in MICO Layout and Marathahalli police stations. Of the four, three are identified as Adesh, Wasim and Syed, from whom 2 kg of ganja, 160 grams of MDMA crystals, 25 grams of cocaine, and mobile phones have been seized.

Man held for killing friend

Bengaluru: The Puttenahalli police claims to have solved the murder of 23-year-old Basavaraj by arresting his friend, Abhishek (25). Both the victim and accused were friends. The accused told police that he got frustrated after he was abused by the victim, which led to the murder. The accused is a resident of Puttenahalli. Basavaraj was murdered in the wee hours of Wednesday near Siddalingeshwara theatre junction. The two were returning after drinking at a bar.

Man ends life after girl's family calls off wedding

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

UPSET over his fiancee's refusal to marry him, with just a few days left for the wedding, a 29-year-old private firm employee took his own life near the former's residence at Hosapalya on Magadi Road.

The victim has been identified as R Mohan Kumar, a resident of Thippasandra in Magadi. He was engaged to Kavyashree. Kumar's family had reportedly even agreed to encourage Kavyashree to continue her studies after the wedding. The victim had reportedly even given the girl's family Rs 10 lakh for the wedding arrangements.

After coming across some rumour, however, the girl's family summoned Kumar to their house and demanded that he cancel the wedding. They even refused to return the money, it is alleged.

When Kumar and his parents went to Kavyashree's house to sort out the issue, he was allegedly humiliated and forcibly pushed out of the house. Upset over all this, apart from the wedding being cancelled, he hanged himself.

His father, H Rangaswamaiah (60), has filed a case against Kavyashree; her mother, Varalakshmamma; and a distant relative, Jayaramaiah. A case of abetment of suicide has been registered against the three accused. "The accused are absconding. We are checking if the victim has left any death note. Kumar is alleged to have given money to Varalakshmamma and Kavyashree on September 17," said an officer.

The accused are alleged to have told the victim to end his life or they would only kill him if he tried to disturb Kavyashree. Kumar returned home with his parents. At around 3.30 am, he left home for work and four hours later, he went near his fiancee's house and committed suicide, it is learnt.

Builder, aide shot at in KR Puram

ENS @ Bengaluru

A 29-year-old rowdy sheeter-turned-builder and his associate were shot at by four bike-borne assailants in KR Puram police station limits. The attack occurred around 3 pm at Kurudu Sonnenahalli. The accused are suspected to have opened four rounds of fire. Both the victims are undergoing treatment in hospital. The builder is Shivashankar Reddy, while his associate is Ashok Reddy (33). The two were supervising work for a building being built by Shivashankar.

"Of the two, Shivashankar is involved in multiple crimes, including two murders, in Madanapalle. Three teams have been formed to trace the accused. Ashok is Shivashankar's driver," said S Girish, DCP (Whitefield Division). "Shivashankar has sustained bullet injuries on the shoulder and back, while Ashok has sustained injuries on his leg," Additional Commissioner of Police, Law and Order (East), Dr A Subramanyeswara Rao said.

Gujarat results have proved a pro-incumbency trend in favour of BJP, says Bommai | If there is Modi wave, why didn't it help saffron party win Himachal or MCD elections in Delhi: Siddu | Political scenarios in both states are completely different, say Opposition parties

GUJ BOOSTER FOR K'TAKA BJP; CONG COUNTERS WITH HP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE BJP's landslide victory in Prime Minister Narendra Modi's home state Gujarat seems to have given a big boost to the party leaders in Karnataka ahead of the 2023 Assembly elections. However, Opposition Congress and JDS leaders said Gujarat polls will not have any impact on Karnataka. Congress urged BJP leaders in Karnataka to take a look at Himachal Pradesh results which are in the favour of the Grand Old Party.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and many senior BJP leaders expressed confidence that Gujarat results will have a positive impact on the Karnataka elections. "It is a morale booster for workers and supporters in Karnataka. Working with much more enthusiasm will help the party to come back to power in the state," Bommai told reporters in Bengaluru.

BJP workers celebrated the party's victory in Gujarat by distributing sweets at the party office in Bengaluru.

Bommai attributed the victory in Gujarat to PM Modi's strong and positive leadership and good governance. "People will always support good governance and till recently there was an anti-incumbency trend all over the country but the Gujarat poll results have proved a pro-incumbency trend in favour of BJP. It is not easy to win for the seventh consecutive time," he said.

On the party's performance in the Delhi corporation elections, the CM said being in administration in a local body for 15 years is a big achievement as there will be plenty of problems in it. The voter number is small and there will be a multi-corner fight, so it cannot be compared with the general polls, he said.

Minister of Energy of Kannada and Culture V Sunil Kumar said the party respects the voters' verdict in Himachal Pradesh and state and central leaders will introspect reasons for it. In Karnataka, the party will give importance to seniors and opportunity for newcomers, he said.

"People have yet again reposed their trust in the leadership and development agenda of PM Modi. I am confident that the people of Karnataka will bless BJP in the upcoming Assembly elections," said former CM BS Yediyurappa.

Opposition Congress and JDS leaders, however, maintained that the Gujarat polls will not have any impact on Karnataka elections as the political scenarios in both states are completely different.

BJP leaders in Karnataka also need to look at Himachal Pradesh results, state Congress said taking to a social media platform. People in Karnataka will also reject BJP the way they have done in Himachal Pradesh, the party said.

JDS leader and former CM HD Kumaraswamy said Gujarat polls will not have any impact on Karnataka as people took such a decision in Gujarat due to the absence of strong opposition parties in that state.

GUJARAT VERDICT WILL HAVE NO IMPACT IN K'TAKA: SIDDU

MYSURU: Opposition leader Siddaramaiah said that the BJP's landslide victory in Gujarat will have no impact on the ensuing assembly elections in Karnataka as there is a strong anti-incumbancy wave and serious corruption charges against the BJP government in the state. Speaking to the reporters here, he said bad governance will will spell doom for the ruling BJP in Karnataka. On the Gujarat poll verdict, he said the Aam Admi Party (AAP) has cut into the Congress votes. The BJP may try to align with the JDS in Karnataka and try to eat into Congress votes, but it will not work. He further said that the electoral verdict of one state will not have any impact on the other state as the situation in Karnataka is totally different and the Congress has a strong base in the state. Asked what about Congress strategy in the elections, he said there is no Modi wave here. "If there was a Modi wave, why didn't it help the BJP win the polls in Himachal Pradesh or MCD elections in Delhi", he asked.

BJP hopes to do well in B'luru, then take state

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AFTER the BJP got a big mandate in Gujarat, it is looking to replicate its win in Karnataka in 2023.

The key to BJP's showing will be its performance in Bengaluru, where the party is hoping to do well in most of the 28 seats. The Jana Sankalpa Yatra, which is their vehicle to galvanise support, will kick off in Bengaluru this Sunday in Malleswaram. Former Chickpet corporator A L Shivakumar said the meeting will be held at at Sirur Park.

MP P C Mohan said, "We will showcase the achievements of the double-engine government — Smart City, Suburban Rail, Metro connect with Airport, Awas Yojana and the many other schemes." The BJP plans to hold Jana Sankalpa Yatra meetings across the 28 Assembly segments to drive home the message to the voter that BJP is a good option. They will complete the first phase of the Yatra till January in some constituencies and thereafter, hold the second phase of the Yatra.

Speaking about the launch in Malleswaram, and not in its usual South Bengaluru stronghold, BJP sources said they initially planned it for Jayanagar, but the local unit was not ready for it on December 11.

Sources said that in addition, many key changes were made in the bureaucracy, and a team of proactive officials is expected to bring in good support on the ground.

SNAP POLLS IN STATE? NO, SAYS BJP

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

WITH the BJP posting a landslide win in Gujarat, the political grapevine had it that the party would go in for snap polls in Karnataka, in February 2023, to cream the positive impact it could have. However, party functionaries rubbished it.

"We are not under the illusion that we can win like in Gujarat, if we go for early polls. We have several development projects to be implemented, and we ill go for elections with a report card in hand. The Bommai government has to complete its tenure," a BJP leader said.

The hike in SC/ST quota by 6 per cent, regularisation of 11,133 pourakarmiks, and tap water to 32 lakh households across the state under Jal Jeevan Mission (JJM) will be helpful to the party. Issues related to corruption, border row, demands for hike in quota for other communities, 2A tag for Panchamasali Lingayats, and hike in Fair Remunerative Price (FRP) for sugarcane, have to be resolved and will take time, a source told TNIE.

Meanwhile, the party has to make out a strong case for its pro-Hindu stance, and steps will be taken to implement the Uniform Civil Code (UCC) when it comes up during the winter session in Belagavi. Bommai is likely to present a populist election budget in March 2023, political pundits analysed.

Yet, opposition parties, especially the Congress, are worried as they need time to prepare their logistics, and early polls could mar its chances under the shadow of Gujarat, a Congress leader said. Moreover, the BJP, which has already embarked on the Jan Sankalp Yatra, has upped its confidence level.

The JDS, which is on a 'Pancharatna Yatra', is getting overwhelming response for former CM H D Kumaraswamy's rallies. The Congress has delayed its SC/ST convention, Aikyata Samavesha, slated to be held in Chitradurga on January 8, and may find it difficult to face snap polls as it is mainly dependent on the anti-incumbency factor against the Bommai government," regretted a Congress leader.

STATE VOTERS FED UP WITH BJP, SAYS CONGRESS

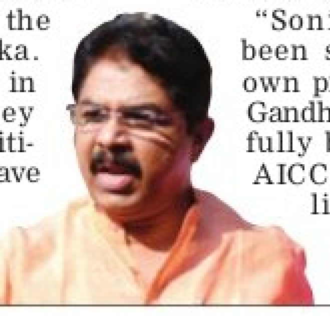
Kalaburagi: The Congress will win the 2023 Assembly elections in Karnataka and form the government as its leadership is strong, asserted senior leaders of the party in Kalaburagi on Thursday. KPCC working president Eshwar Khandre, vice-president Dr Sharanprakash Patil, chairman of KPCC communication and social media unit Priyank Kharge and chief whip of opposition in the Assembly Dr Ajay Singh addressed the media here. They said people of Karnataka are fed up with the BJP misrule and want to elect a Congress government as it has given good governance in the past. BJP will lose in Kalyana Karnataka, they claimed. On Congress' drubbing in Gujarat, they said that the BJP has used money and muscle power to remain in power. They said Guajrat results will not have any impact on Karnataka elections.

Several Cong MLAs ready to join us: Ashoka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

REVENUE Minister R Ashoka on Thursday said that the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP), which has eaten into the Congress votes in Gujarat, will play a similar role in Karnataka in 2023 Assembly elections. "AAP snatching away Congress votes is happening in several states. AAP has become a 'Congress drowning party'," he said.

He said several Congress leaders, including incumbent MLAs, are a worried lot seeing the "sad state of the party" in Karnataka. "Many of them are in touch with me... they have 20-30 years of political career left. They have made up their mind to quit Congress and join BJP," the minister said.



He said parties like AAP will replace the Congress which has no leadership.

"Sonia Gandhi has been suffering from own problems, Rahul Gandhi has been forcefully brought in and AICC president Mallikarjuna Kharge has no age on his side. If at all Rahul's Bharat Jodo Yatra worked in favour of the party it would have been reflected in the outcome of the Gujarat assembly polls. The only outcome is he sporting the beard", Ashoka ridiculed.

On CLP leader Siddaramaiah claiming that the Gujarat polls results will not have any impact on Karnataka, Ashoka hit back asking, "Is Gujarat in Pakistan or Bangladesh?"

BORDER ROW

Our stand is clear, says CM; Siddu seeks PM's intervention

ENS @ Bengaluru, Mysuru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday said that the State Government has taken all steps to protect its interests and has already announced its clear stand on the border dispute with Maharashtra. Speaking to reporters, Bommai said all the necessary steps are being taken to protect the state's interests and protect Kannadigas. "We have already spoken with DGP and chief secretary of Maharashtra. I have spoken with our party national president JP Nadda and have made our stand clear," the CM added.

Bommai said during his discussion with Maharashtra CM, he had appealed to his counterpart to maintain peace and tranquillity on their side and Karnataka will take care of it here and there must be no provocation from any side. Bommai clarified that Union Home Minister Amit Shah had not called him to discuss developments related to the border row.

Meanwhile, addressing reporters in Mysuru, Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah blamed both the governments in Karnataka and Maharashtra for the border issue. He also slammed Bommai for failing to prevail upon Prime Minister Narendra Modi to intervene to defuse the tension. Siddaramaiah slammed what he called the reluctance of Karnataka BJP leaders to approach Modi on the issue.

"Why is there violence on the border and why is there a tense atmosphere when both the states have BJP-led governments?" he asked.

He said the BJP was using the issue for political purposes. "Withdrawal of public transport between the two states has hit people," he said. Siddaramaiah said that the CM should brief the PM on the situation and urge him to resolve the issue. He said, "The Mahajan Commission report on the matter is final and there can be no compromise on the border issue."

Black paint sprayed on Maha truck in Gadag

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @ Gadag

KANNADA activists stopped a Maharashtra-bound truck at Mahatma Gandhi in Gadag and sprayed black paint on it on Thursday.

Members of Karnataka Rakshana Vedike (KRV) were protesting against the approach of the Maharasthra government in the border dispute. They also blocked the road. When they saw a truck with Maharashtra registration, they stopped it and climbed on it. A few activists burnt effigies of politicians from Maharashtra, including CM Eknath Shinde. However, the police rushed to the spot and asked the activists to get down of the truck. An activist came near the driver and sprayed black paint on the truck. Later, the police helped the vehicle leave the spot.

One more Maharashtra village seeks merger with Karnataka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

SEVERAL border gram panchayats in Maharashtra continue to exert pressure on the Eknath Shinde government demanding the merger of their villages with Karnataka if they are not provided basic amenities immediately. In the latest case, it has come to light that residents of Bombali in Latur district (near Bidar) have urged the Maharashtra government to merge their village with Karnataka.

The residents have submitted a memorandum to the tahsildar and also written to the Latur deputy commissioner alleging that their village has been neglected by the Maharashtra government. The residents held a meeting at Bombali in which they poured out their woes. They said that the Karnataka government on the other side has provided basic facilities to the villages located on its border.

They also threatened to boycott gram panchayat elections if the Maharashtra government continued to neglect their village.

In their letter to the DC, the residents of Bombali village have demanded implementation of a drinking water supply project to help them tide over the water crisis once and for all. They also demanded release of Rs 50,000 aid to each of the farmers in the village on par with Karnataka farmers on the border.

Their other demands included appointment of a doctor with MBBS degree to the PHC in Bombali village and free supply of power to agriculture pumpsets up to 10 HP.

Varuna gives Siddu grand welcome, wants him back

K SHIVA KUMAR @Mysuru

A festive welcome awaited Opposition leader Siddaramaiah on his home turf Varuna, with women performing arathi, and villagers showering him with petals. People poured out into the streets to give him a grand reception, and they had one request: "Contest from Varuna and become chief minister again!"

Siddaramaiah is on a two-day tour of Varuna. Having visited Kolar assembly constituency to feel the pulse of the people, it is said he is likely to return to Varuna, which he had given up for son Yathindra.

The people of Varuna, who had elected him twice with a huge margin, want the Ahinda leader back as it is considered to be his lucky seat. During a procession in an open jeep with Yathindra, his close associate H C Mahadevappa and others raised slogans, hailing him as the future chief minister.

Siddaramaiah thanked the people for their love, and said that because they had elected him twice, he had gone on to become chief minister and opposition leader. "I have visited Varuna more than a hundred times, but never got such a warm welcome," he said.

When villagers in Hadeenarumole urged him to announce his candidature from Varuna, Siddaramaiah said it was not fair to raise the issue in the presence of sitting MLA Yathindra, and that the party high command will decide on his candidature.

Speaking after inaugurating an Uppara community hall, he said people should not entertain those who are against building a society on equality, referring to the BJP government's decision to give 10 per cent EWS quota. He lashed out at the BJP government for cutting funds for welfare programmes.

Election to Council chairman post on December 21

BENGALURU : Karnataka Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot has issued a notification for the election to the post of Chairman of the Karnataka Legislative Council. According to the notification, the election will be held on December 21 during the 10-day Belagavi winter session of the legislature which will begin on December 19. Senior Bharatiya Janata Party leader Raghunath Rao Malkapure has been officiating as the pro tem chairman and he, along with eight-time MLC and former chairman Basavaraj Horatti, are in the race for the coveted post. Horatti had recently quit the Janata Dal (Secular) and joined the BJP in the presence of Union Home Minister Amit Shah. ENS

KCR TO LAUNCH 'BRS' TODAY, TO AIM FOR NATIONAL ROLE

VV BALAKRISHNA @ Hyderabad

THE Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS) will officially launch on Friday, and the stage is all set for TRS supremo and Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao to foray into national politics to take on the BJP, en route to the 2024 General Election.

Rao received an official letter from the Election Commission of India (ECI) on Thursday, stating that the change of the name from 'TRS' to 'BRS' has been has approved. ECI Senior Principal Secretary KN Bhar in a letter to Rao said: "The Election Commission accepted your request for change in the name of your party from Telangana Rashtra Samithi to Bharat Rashtra Samithi. The necessary notification in this regard will be issued in due course."

As he received approval, Rao decided to organise a formation programme of Bharat Rashtra Samithi and fixed the muhurtam at 1.20 pm on Friday, from when official programmes of the BRS will commence.

Accordingly, the TRS chief will sign the official letter from the ECI, and send a reply to the EC. Later, he will hoist the BRS flag. Also, an inauguration ceremony will be held.

Rao asked state party executive committee members, party district presidents, ministers, MPs, MLAs and MLCs to attend the inauguration of the BRS, which will be held at Telangana Bhavan. Welcoming the EC's decision, Senior TRS leader Palla Rajeshwar Reddy said the Telangana model would be implemented across the country. "Like in Telangana, providing water and power to tillers is the aim of the BRS across India," he said.

Meanwhile, even as Rao hoists the flag of his new party, the colour of the flag will remain pink. The party symbol, car, too will remain unchanged.

Advances in tech to create more jobs: Former DRDO head

AM 3D
AERO 2022

Former DRDO head Dr V K Aatre speaks at the AM 3D Aero 2022 Conference & Expo in Bengaluru on Thursday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

SCIENTIST and former head of the Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) Dr V K Aatre on Thursday said that the development of technology will lead to increased employment and a shift towards exports.

Speaking at the inauguration of the AM 3D Aero 2022 Conference & Expo -- jointly organised by Boeing, Ramaiah Institute of Technology, and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) -- he said, "Huge opportunities are being made available due to technological developments. As technology advances, the opportunities for job creation increases."

The two-day expo, focusing on additive manufacturing and 3D-printing in the aerospace industry, has as many as 38 stalls, and will be attended by 350 industry experts. "With India improving indigenous production, we are moving from importing goods to exporting goods to other countries. This can be improved if industrialists and academicians work together. We should also make sure that talent is recognised in the younger generations and kept within the country, so that there won't be an exodus of students and young professionals to other countries," Dr Aatre, who was former scientific advisor to the Defence Minister, said.

Referring to the changes that are required going forward, he said that research should be more oriented towards practical applications. "Research should not remain only on paper, but should also be implemented. Students must also consider research in areas like aviation and this must be high-quality and for better performances. Research in civil engineering should be undertaken so that departments are able to use modern technology," he said.

Mandous turns into severe cyclonic storm

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

AS cyclonic storm 'Mandous' intensified on Thursday, several north coastal and interior districts of Tamil Nadu, Puducherry and Karaikal may receive extreme to very heavy rainfall on December 9 and 10 (Friday and Saturday), the Indian Meteorological Department (IMD) said on Thursday.

While a holiday has been declared for schools and colleges on Friday in 19 districts — Chennai, Chengalpattu, Villupuram, Tiruvallur, Vellore, Cuddalore, Ranipet, Kancheepuram, Kallakurichi, Thanjavur, Tiruvarur, Mayiladuthurai, Nagapattinam, Ariyalur, Perambalur, Pudukkottai, Salem, Dharmapuri and Namakkal — in Tamil Nadu, all educational institutions will remain shut in Karaikal and Puducherry on Friday and Saturday.

The IMD said the storm, which lay centered about 350 km east-southeast of Karaikal and about 440 km southeast of Chennai over the southwest Bay of Bengal, is likely to maintain its intensity till Friday morning and then weaken into a cyclonic storm by forenoon.

"It would continue to move west-northwestwards and cross north Tamil Nadu, Puducherry and adjoining south AP coasts between Puducherry and Sriharikota around Mahabalipuram as a cyclonic storm with a maximum sustained wind speed of 65-75 kmph gusting to 85 kmph around midnight of Friday," the IMD said.

Focus on 15-29 age group: Panel

THE committee had stressed on youth in the age-group of 15 to 29, touching various aspects including education, training, employment, entrepreneurship, health and well-being, sports and fitness, arts and culture as well as value-based leadership development.

According to data shared by the department, in Karnataka, presently, of the 7.5 crore population, 30 per cent are youth, or 2.11 crore.

Sources from the department said there are over 500 schemes for youth in various departments including education, sports, social welfare, women and child and health. "The budget will be a consolidated one which will bring all these aspects under one umbrella," sources said. Documents shared by the department also say that the dropout rate at high-school level has increased and only 21 per cent of youth are reaching graduation and post-graduation level.

'Janapadotsava' as part of Bahuroopi inaugurated

ENS @ Mysuru

AS a prelude to the official inauguration of Bahuroopi, a national theatre festival, 'Janapadotsava' -- a folk festival, was inaugurated on Thursday. Folklore scholar Dr P K Rajashekhar inaugurated it in the presence of renowned Yakshagana artiste Keremane Shivananda Hegade.

On the first day of Bahuroopi, Kamsale was performed by Mahadev and troupe, while a Yakshagana 'Panchavati' by Keremane Shivananda Hegade and Idagunji Mela were also staged.

Earlier, Rangayana director Addanda Cariappa said the week-long theatre festival is themed 'Indianness' and like every year, art camp, folk camp, film festival, national seminar, book mela, exhibition of artwork, food mela and hands-on experience and demonstration will be held. He said that this year, theatre troupes from seven states depicting plays in seven language, including 12 Kannada plays and a Tulu play will be staged at the Bhoomigeetha, Kalamandira, Vanaranga, BV Karan Rangachavadi, and Sampath Rangamandira.

BJP WINS, AAP GAINS IN GUJ, HIMACHAL SAVES CONGRESS BLUSHES

The BJP has scored a historic victory in Gujarat, winning a record number of seats, and has equalled the record of seven straight wins by the Left Front in West Bengal. Its performance is proof that brand Modi endures in his home state. However, it is important to see the Gujarat victory in perspective. The BJP's vote share rose by about 3%. The AAP bagged nearly 13% votes, bringing the Congress share down drastically. This split in the opposition vote was one of the factors that contributed to the BJP's landslide. Undoubtedly, it is to the BJP's credit that it won over 50% of votes even after being in power since 1990, barring a brief rule of Shankersinh Vaghela.

The credit goes to Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his Gujarat model for turning incumbency into an advantage. Noticeably, the BJP also beat the predictions of a complete sweep of the Aam Aadmi Party in the Delhi Municipal Corporation by improving its vote percentage and bagging over a hundred seats.

The Aam Aadmi Party improved its vote share in the Delhi municipal election compared to what it polled previously. But compared to its performance in the last two assembly elections, its vote share saw a big decline. That should be a cause for worry for the AAP as it celebrates the dethroning of the BJP from the corporation after 15 years. Allegations of corruption against AAP in liquor licensing and trade appear to have worked for the BJP. The fight for the MCD is not over yet as the BJP is likely to throw its hat in the mayoral ring. Since there is no anti-defection law in the MCD, corporators are free to choose a mayor of their liking.

As for the Congress, the party has been saved from a complete rout in this round of election by the people of Himachal Pradesh. The party rode to power on the strength of its promises of restoring the Old Pension Scheme, among others. Chief Minister Jairam Thakur's unpopularity also contributed to Congress' victory. The party will, however, face a big challenge in Gujarat, where the emergence of the AAP poses a long-term threat. The AAP appears a net gainer in these elections as it got a majority in the MCD and is set to become a national party with the help of its Gujarat votes.

METEORIC RISE OF AAM AADMI PARTY IN 10 YRS

From an outlier that bloomed in Delhi's moral and political vacuum on an anti-corruption platform a decade ago, the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) is dramatically expanding its pan-India footprint. It now has bragging rights to be recognised as a national party. The AAP needed a minimum of 6% vote share in at least four states to get the recognition. Apart from Delhi and Punjab, where it is the ruling party, the AAP's vote share in Goa was 6.77%. Gujarat became the icing on the cake, securing 13% of the total votes polled and enough seats to make the cut. AAP founder Arvind Kejriwal knew that capturing Gujarat would be impossible in the current round of elections since it had a negligible presence in the state except for a few urban pockets. Yet, he mounted a high-voltage campaign to cross the national party threshold and get rooted.

With the Congress sleep-walking into the elections, engaging in what it claimed was a silent campaign—that wasn't audible even to Gujarat voters—the AAP preened itself on being the BJP's prime adversary. This lapse is on new Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge, who apparently appeared more interested in demolishing his challenger Shashi Tharoor than in quickly cranking up the election machine and at least putting up a decent fight. The Congress victory in Himachal Pradesh came not because of, but despite, the high command. The AAP relaxed its Himachal push after its state in-charge and Delhi minister Satyendar Jain was arrested in a corruption case. Had he been free, the AAP could have taken away a sizeable chunk of the opposition votes in Himachal, perhaps helping the BJP. Some food for thought for the saffron party.

The AAP's ascendance would be worrying not just for the Congress but also for the BJP. Both parties are rumoured to have done an underhand deal in Punjab in 2017 to keep the AAP out of power. In the recent MCD polls, for the first time, it trounced the ruling BJP. The AAP is growing at the expense of the Congress. But once in power, it is not easy to dislodge. It has a committed cadre that may not succumb to, say, an Operation Lotus. Reason enough for the BJP to be wary of its meteoric rise. The Congress must learn to do business with Kejriwal and accommodate the AAP in the national Opposition coalition that will be cobbled together if it aspires to pose a serious challenge to the BJP in the 2024 Lok Sabha polls.

QUICK TAKE

CALLOUS STERILISATIONS

Callous doctors conducted a tubectomy on twenty-three women without anaesthesia in Bihar recently. Seven women escaped from the government hospital and avoided the torment. The government's reaction is a standard probe order. The careless approach to female sterilisation drives nationwide must stop. These are undertaken to meet bureaucratic targets. Women are coerced or lured by incentives. Attention to hygiene and surgery protocols is scant. Many sterilisations fail. Some women die of post-operative complications. Sterilisation camps cannot be torture chambers and make the medical officers accountable. The government should realise that absent campaigns for male sterilisation and condom use smack of patriarchy.

It would be a folly for the Congress to bask in its Himachal Pradesh victory and not introspect; the Aam Aadmi Party gets wind in its sail with national party status

Mt MODI AND THE LESSER PEAKS, DRAWN TO SCALE

SANTWANA BHATTACHARYA

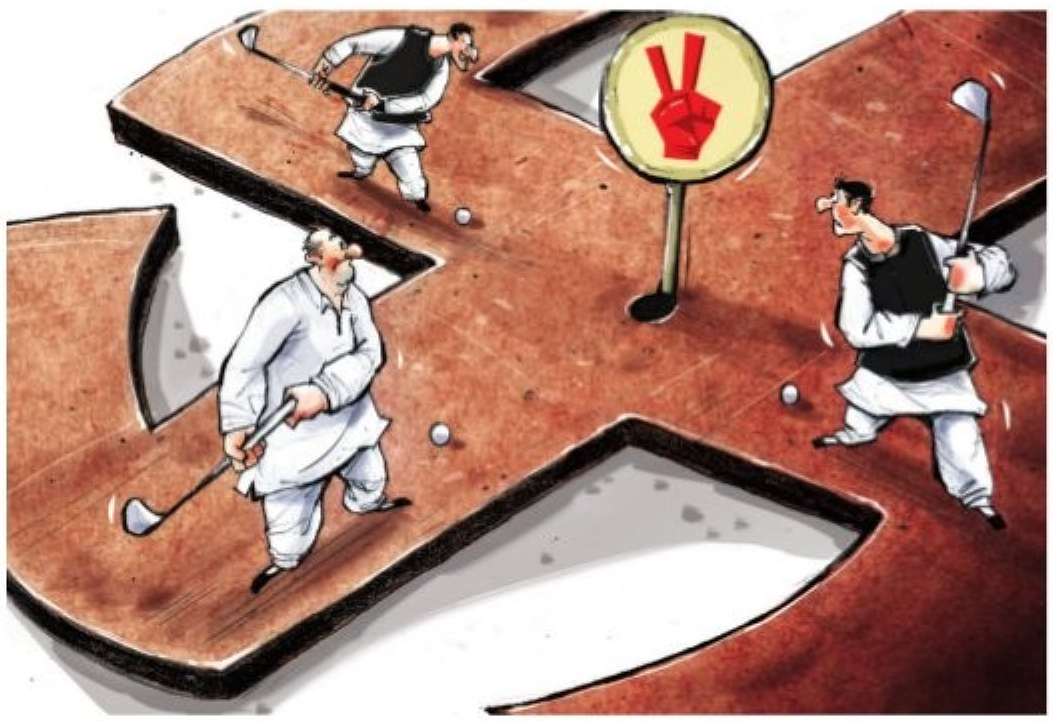
Editor

So Gujarat has scaled Mt Modi, and it was higher than anticipated even by believers. There were other segments to the news, but they all paled before this piece of electoral history, wrapped up in numbers so stunning that they may never be matched in scale. The 156/182 verdict, hand-crafted to perfection by Prime Minister Modi and his ace team of man-to-man markers, delivers what it is meant to: shock and awe. For a party that's a master at eking out advantage even from adversity, this is pure gold—and it will go all out to pave the way to the future with this haul. But once the immediate effect wanes off, and one looks at the December 2022 results in a calmer light, they also come across like benevolent winter sunshine offering equal warmth to all.

The Congress, shamed in Gujarat of its own accord, managed a part-redemption in Himachal Pradesh—its first solo assembly election win in four years. Its long drought, after the famous troika of victories in Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh and Chhattisgarh in 2018, has ended. Even if partly by default, even if it came on the back of a mere "one per cent margin", a fact Modi lost no time to rub in, this keeps the Grand Old Party alive as a brand in Indian electoral politics.

Given the often directionless padayatra, the party has been on as an electoral entity in recent years, we can expect the Congress to shut its eyes to the decimation in Gujarat and the MCD polls in Delhi and, like the proverbial cat, drink the milk on offer. But put it down to coincidence, its forthcoming battles allow it that leeway. Karnataka, Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh and Chhattisgarh are due in 2023, and all are states where it is genuinely in contention.

The Aam Aadmi Party can be even more enthused, though perhaps a wee less than it would have liked. In two days, it has pulled off a dramatic heist on the MCD and now made a creditable opening in Gujarat. Winning for itself the much-coveted national party status with a 10+ per cent vote-share feeds right into its narrative of going national as a genuine alternative, with a nuts-and-bolts approach to governance that obviously appeals to common India.



SOURAV ROY

These results put, if not a gale-force wind, at least a cheery breeze in its sail for onward journeys. Unlike the Congress, it is no shrinking violet—it dared to go right into the lion's den with all the giant-killing appetite of a David and a bagful of governance rhetoric and welfarist schemes. Even if the returns are modest compared to the energy expended and raised decibels, it shows a party with pluck, intuition and ideas. The fact that the BJP swivelled its cannons around to AAP shows that it perceives a long-term threat. A dynamic force then, even if a minor one yet, unlike the static entities that merely retained their fiefdoms—the Samajwadi Party in Mainpuri or the RLD in Khatauli.

Critics could say the best news for AAP remained its voteshare, and its claim to have become the main challenger to the BJP. The worst news for the Congress, though, is that enough Gujarat voters, especially from its traditional tribal and rural strongholds, seem to have taken that claim positively.

The piece de resistance, anyway, was coloured saffron. Yes, its seventh straight win, even after an unbroken 27-year incumbency, came in its backyard. But the numbers bettered not only Modi's own previous high, logged in the charged air of 2002, it won a prize they have made no secret of coveting: Madhavsinh Solanki's 37-year-old record haul of 149.

More importantly, it breaks another pattern. The Modi years in Gujarat had been marked by a modest decline—from 127 in 2002 to 99 in 2018. To now beat anti-incumbency so overwhelmingly that there will not even be any Leader of Opposition—no party has the numbers—carries a message that will be read by distant voters and the world alike.

On a micro analysis, too, the BJP has much to celebrate. Old pockets of resistance and new malcontents have all fallen to its charms. Saurashtra, which gave the BJP much heartburn when the Congress famously ran it close in 2017, gave it 45 out of its total 46 seats. The conquest of the 27 tribal seats- an old Congress redoubt- was lesser only on the numerical scale. In terms of political significance, it counts for much more. A split 'against' vote between the GOP and AAP meant those two could wrest only a seat apiece. The BJP took the remaining 25. Adivasi belts elsewhere, especially in Rajasthan-MP-Chhattisgarh, will not be immune to this.

In north Gujarat, where the OBC Thakors occasionally stood estranged from it, 27 out of 32 seats voted saffron. The induction of Congress defector Alpesh Thakor was like a metaphor for an en bloc transfer of loyalties. And 20 out of 26 central Gujarat seats meant the restive Patidars had been conclusively assuaged with the EWS reservation—another fact with enduring policy repercussions.

As for the Congress, even if Himachal has come into its kitty as a consolation prize, it would be folly for it to take refuge in it. Even if the Priyanka Gandhi-Rajiv Shukla team did some work to stay the course, there were four clear factors that enabled it.

One, the BJP was faced with crippling dissension at the top—primarily between the Prem Kumar Dhumal-Anurag Thakur and Jai Ram Thakur camps—and down the ranks. That made for a surfeit of rebel candidates whose vote subversion even party president J P Nadda could not stanch in his home state.

Two, Himachal is a state with a high percentage of voters in the government service, and the demand for a reversion to the Old Pension Scheme has been voluble. The Centre has been wary of promising this across states for fiscal reasons—the Congress did so and reaped the benefits.

Three, a clear sympathy wave for the GOP after the July 2021 demise of the popular Virbhadra Singh. Add to this the ire of the apple farmers, who have hit the streets for the first time in 32 years on account of new economic strains, and it ensured that Himachal kept its pattern of oscillating within its old binary. The regional analysis—how Kangra, Shimla and Mandi voted—is a mere statistical side dish against those realities. What matters is the big canvas ahead.

DATA SUGGESTS AAP IS A NATIONAL PLAYER NOW

SUTANU GURU

Executive Director, C Voter Foundation

Many "pundits" cackled with derision when some BJP leaders claimed in May 2014 that it would emerge as a formidable electoral force in Haryana, Assam and West Bengal. Their contention: the heady Lok Sabha victory, it seems, had prompted the BJP to make outlandish claims. Something similar can be seen today regarding the performance of Aam Aadmi Party in Gujarat and claims made by its leaders that the AAP has finally emerged as a national political force. The contention: its leaders are making outlandishly tall claims. No doubt, many AAP leaders are "guilty" of that. But look at data dispassionately and remove ideological blinkers, and one thing becomes clear: AAP indeed promises to emerge as a national political force. The road ahead may be long and arduous, and it is possible the AAP could lose steam midway, but data as of today makes it a very successful political start-up.

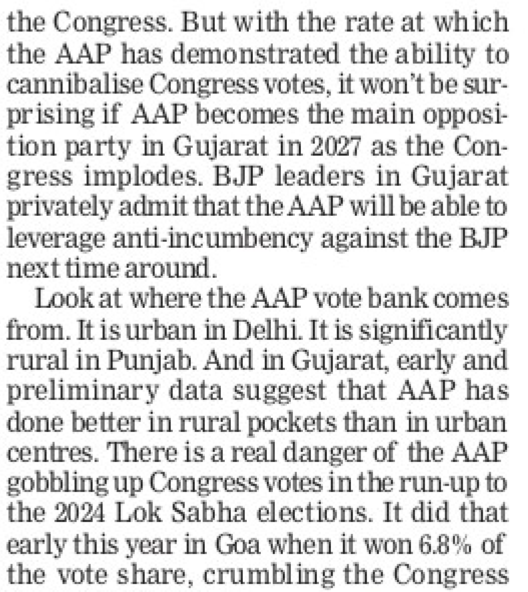
Out of nowhere, AAP secured a 13% vote share in Gujarat, plundered from traditional Congress vote banks. Remember, AAP is just a 10-year-old party that leveraged the anti-corruption movement launched by Anna Hazare to deliver a shock to the Congress in the 2013 Delhi assembly elections. AAP made its electoral debut by getting a 29.5% vote share. There was a marginal dip in the BJP vote share. Most voters who opted for AAP in 2013 were traditional Congress supporters.

When assembly elections in Delhi were held again in 2015, the AAP vote share soared to 54.3%. Most of it was cannibalised from the Congress. Even in the 2020 assembly elections, the party won a staggering 53.5% vote share. Now, look at Punjab, the other state where the AAP has a chief minister. In 2017, AAP secured a 23.7% vote share and won 20 out of 117 seats.

Many pundits proclaimed that the much tom-tommed AAP balloon had deflated. This perception was reinforced when its Lok Sabha tally dropped to just one in Punjab in 2019. But come the 2022 assembly elections, AAP was back in the game. Its vote share shot up to 42%, and AAP won a massive 92 seats.

Before anyone sniggers at the 13% vote share won by AAP in the just-concluded Gujarat assembly election, think about what happened in Delhi and Punjab. To be sure, it's not as if the AAP will repeat Delhi and Punjab in 2027 when Gujarat goes to the polls again. The BJP is too formidable a party to meekly fold up and surrender like the Congress. But with the rate at which the AAP has demonstrated the ability to cannibalise Congress votes, it won't be surprising if AAP becomes the main opposition party in Gujarat in 2027 as the Congress implodes. BJP leaders in Gujarat privately admit that the AAP will be able to leverage anti-incumbency against the BJP next time around.

Look at where the AAP vote bank comes from. It is urban in Delhi. It is significantly rural in Punjab. And in Gujarat, early and preliminary data suggest that AAP has done better in rural pockets than in urban centres. There is a real danger of the AAP gobbling up Congress votes in the run-up to the 2024 Lok Sabha elections. It did that early this year in Goa when it won 6.8% of the vote share, crumbling the Congress challenge to the BJP.



PTI

In Gujarat, early and preliminary data suggest that AAP has done better in rural pockets than in urban centres. There is a real danger of the AAP gobbling up Congress votes in the run-up to the 2024 Lok Sabha elections

In states with strong regional parties like West Bengal, UP, Bihar, Odisha, Telangana, Andhra Pradesh and Tamil Nadu, the AAP may not find electoral space. But in states where the Congress is in bipolar contests with the BJP, the AAP can sense a golden opportunity to break through. It did become the main opposition party in the Surat municipal corporation. And surprisingly, in Assam, the AAP won one seat in Guwahati municipal elections this April, while the Congress drew a blank. Of course, the BJP swept the polls. These are straws in the wind, but they point to the AAP's opportunities to expand its electoral footprint to become a possible alternative.

It is not as if political alternatives available to voters have not existed in India. The 1960s saw the short-lived Swatantra Party on the Right and the Communists on the Left break the Congress monopoly over power.

In addition, regional parties like the DMK and the Akali Dal emerged as credible alternatives to the Congress in Tamil Nadu and Punjab. By the 1989 Lok Sabha elections, the BJP had emerged as a credible alternative at the national level, while the communist parties retained their relevance. In 2009, that voter support for the Left virtually collapsed, and Congress began suffering a similar fate from 2014. By 2019, it was clear that barring formidable regional parties in their own states, a credible alternative to the BJP at the national level simply did not exist. Politics hates vacuums. The attempt by the Aam Aadmi Party and Arvind Kejriwal needs to be seen in this historical context.

Going ahead, the AAP will need four things to expand its electoral footprint in India successfully. The first is resources. Governments in Delhi, Punjab and the municipal corporation of Delhi will help. The second is a clear positive message to voters on health, education, freebies, and the like. Supported by a propaganda apparatus and media support in Delhi, AAP is uniquely positioned to exploit this advantage. The third is ideology. Since AAP is completely bereft of any ideology, it could work both for and against the party. The fourth is a grassroots organisation. This is where the AAP could stumble and fall.

Shorn of rhetoric, the Gujarat results indicate that AAP has proven it is not an NGO-driven, Delhi-based party. Given its over-emphasis on propaganda, it can still flame out by the end of this decade. Yet, no serious and objective political analyst would shy away from watching this fascinating journey.

Congress' downfall

The Congress leaders' overconfidence, senseless comments, and failure to gauge the voters' mood have failed to put a break to Modi's juggernaut in Gujarat. The Gandhi family's arrogance and disdain towards the state leaders made the political battle more fragile. Further, the 'Ravana' remark became an added advantage for BJP. The survival of the Congress depends on mutual respect and appreciation. Otherwise, downfall is certain for the Congress.

BJP learns a lesson

The Aam Aadmi Party's thumping victory in the Delhi Municipal Corporation elections is more than a big blow to the Bharatiya Janata Party, and is a clear recognition of Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal's corruption-free governance. The result also teaches the BJP that the time has come to change its slogan from "Congress-free Bharat" to "Corruption-free Bharat".

In saffron surge, BJP sweeps all 4 Gujarat regions

BJP back to power for record seventh time, with Congress tally coming to its lowest figure of 17 since Gujarat's formation in 1960 and AAP managing to win 5 seats in 182-member House

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@Ahmedabad

THE BJP had everyone convinced, almost, that the saffron storm was about to descend on PM Narendra Modi's home state. Those covering the elections had an idea, not strong enough for this big, unprecedented victory, where anyone who stood in the way of the saffron swag was left swallowing one's pride.

With 156 seats in the 182-member Assembly, it is a landslide of 2022 as the BJP registered its seventh consecutive win. It is the party's largest victory in Gujarat since the state's formation in 1960.

Traditionally, there has always been a strong contest between the BJP and Congress in Gujarat, but this time around, AAP's entry made these elections interesting.

The Congress could win 17 seats, AAP 4 and Independents 4. The Samajwadi Party made its debut in Gujarat by winning one seat in Porbandar's Kutiyana seat.

The AAP has made considerable gains in the Patidar and tribal seats, winning five seats. However, it was the worst show by the Congress this time, where the party failed to capitalise on the gains it had made in the 2017 polls.

Gujarat Chief Minister and BJP candidate Bhupendra Patel with party's state president CR Patil and other leaders in Gandhinagar on Thursday | PTI

No one would have thought that Narendra Modi, who replaced Keshubhai Patel as the chief minister in 2001, would touch people's heart so deeply. Even critics say Modi successfully implemented a slew of measures to reset Gujarat in the aftermath of the 2001 earthquake. He infused life into a dormant administration and initiated an era of good governance in the state.

In the 2017 elections, the Congress bagged 77 seats against 61 in 2012 with a vote share of 41.5%, up from 38.95% it garnered in 2012. Failing to build further momentum on its consolidated vote base, the Congress put up its worst performance, with its vote share dropping to 27.3%.

The BJP bagged 52.52% votes and AAP got a 12.91% share in the elections.

However, of the 89 seats where elections were held in the first phase on December 1, as many as 35 seats are spread across the southern districts of Bharuch, Narmada, Tapi, Dang, Surat, Valsad and Navsari. It also includes 48 seats of Saurashtra and six seats in Kutch district. In 2017, the BJP had managed to win 25 of these 35 seats. But of the 14 seats reserved for the Scheduled Tribes in the region, the BJP could win only five.

In subsequent by-polls, it clinched two additional seats — Dang and Kaprada from the Congress. While the tribal-dominated areas are still considered the BJP's Achilles' heel, urban voters in south Gujarat had stood firmly behind the party in 2017, belying predictions that it will face a route in Surat city.

In 2022, BJP has won 31 out of 35 seats while Congress has retained only two seats and AAP one and another seat has gone to an Independent candidate.

The battle for Saurashtra was tougher because Morbi's bridge collapse on October 30 disturbed the equations for the BJP'. Due to the pro-BJP tilt of Patidar voters in Saurashtra, the BJP's seats have steadily increased over the last two and a half decades. In his election campaign, the Prime Minister had given importance to Saurashtra in his Gujarat tour to marginalise the possible losses.

Seven different reasons are responsible for BJP's record victory. First and foremost reason is PM Narendra Modi's image, followed by others

'Cong has to produce its own Modi, Shah'

The Congress in this election forgot that to win in Gujarat, they had to fight the clout of PM Narendra Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah. If it has to make a comeback in the state, it will have to establish a leader of the stature of Narendra Modi or Amit Shah

7 factors behind BJP's meteoric rise, AAP may replace weak Cong as Oppn

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

AAP puts up better show

The Aam Aadmi Party has failed to form a strong opposition in Gujarat despite many claims. In 2017 too, all its 29 candidates had lost deposits. It has performed better than that. Five of its candidates have won in 2022.

The result of 2022 Assembly polls is likely to drastically change the direction of Gujarat politics. All three major parties — BJP, Congress and AAP — will have positive and negative consequences.

BJP

Seven different reasons are responsible for BJP's record victory. First and foremost reason is PM Narendra Modi factor, followed by water management, safe and secure Gujarat, uninterrupted electricity supply, agricultural growth, empowering poor and deprived, qualitative specialised education, women empowerment, empowerment of tribals and Vibrant Gujarat. In future, the BJP is likely to improve its reach.

Congress

For Congress, it's not only difficult to return in power even, it will even struggle to emerge as the main opposition party in Gujarat. To become an opposition party, Congress has to win 18 seats in Gujarat, but the results proved that Congress could not even secure 18 seats. If Congress wants to be relevant in Gujarat politics, then it will have to make radical changes in its orhanisation. The Congress in this lection forgot that to win in Gujarat, they had to fight the clout of Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah. If it has to make a comeback in the state, it will have to establish a leader of the stature of Narendra Modi or Amit Shah, otherwise its 28 per cent vote share in 2022 might not be retained in 2024.

AAP

The Aam Aadmi Party has failed to form a strong opposition in Gujarat despite many claims. In 2017 too, all its 29 candidates had lost deposits. It has performed better than that. In 2022, Aam Aadmi Party's chief ministerial face Isudan Garhvi along with state president and organisation general secretary have lost elections. But the good thing for the Aam Aadmi Party is that five of their candidates won. If the AAP continues to work hard here like in Punjab, it may replace Congress as opposition in Gujarat.

Maha BJP wants AAP to contest BMC polls to 'eat' into opponents' vote banks

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

TAKING a cue from Gujarat results, BJP's Mumbai unit president Ashish Shelar said on Thursday that their next immediate opponent in BMC elections will be the AAP.

Reacting to the landslide and historic victory of BJP in Gujarat, Mumbai BJP unite president Ashish Shelar on Thursday said that their immediate competitor is AAP. "The way AAP got the votes and seats in Gujarat election, and victory in Delhi Municipal Corporation elections and efforts in Himachal Pradesh shows that the main opponent of BJP in BMC elections will be AAP only. Other parties in Mumbai have no relevance now," he said, putting the cat among the pigeons.

The BJP has to fight against Maha Vikas Aghadi mainly against Shiv Sena to wrest the BMC. Sena has been ruling the BMC for last 25 years since 1997. In 2017, BJP gave a tough time to Shiv Sena by winning 83 seats while Shiv Sena had won 87 seats in 227 members BMC.

Sources in BJP said that people may have different opinion over AAP entry, but this is fact with entry and aggressive campaign of APP, the BJP would not have created all historical records. "Congress is always strong in rural Gujarat that BJP tried several times, but could not break that Congress' OBC, Dalit, Muslim vote block. But this time, AAP not only helped eat significant votes share of the Congress directly, impacting results of 75 seats in Gujarat and giving direct benefit to BJP. We want to use the same strategy in Mumbai by promoting AAP and MNS to split anti-BJP votes," a BJP leader said.

GROW CROPS, SOLAR POWER ON SAME LAND, SAME TIME

If you have a farm, you could try this out to grow better plants as well as generate solar power simultaneously, and on the same land. Scientists from the University of California, Davis, are using a process called agrivoltaics, in which the shades of solar panels are used, under which crops are grown by using lesser water. Their study has found that by growing plants like this, the red spectrum of the light can play a more efficient role in growing plants, while the blue spectrum of the light can be used for solar power production.

THESE MICRO-ROBOTS TARGET DREADED BACTERIA IN DAIRY MILK

Researchers from the University of Chemistry and Technology Prague, Czech Republic, have found an effective way of neutralizing the dreaded bacteria Staphylococcus aureus from dairy milk, in which it is commonly present. Staphylococcus aureus bacteria can cause a wide variety of clinical diseases in humans, and infections caused by this pathogen are common both in community- and hospital-acquired settings. The researchers have developed bio-compatible magnetic microrobots on a nanoscale. These microrobots, called "MagRobots", are loaded with immunoglobulin (IgG) extracted from rabbit serum. IgG is a common antibody, which is present in blood and body fluids. Its role is to protect against bacterial and viral infections.

TOILET FLUSHING FOUND TO BE SOURCE OF DISEASE SPREAD IN RESEARCH

The visibly cleanest public toilets may pose a potent threat to spread disease and infection. A University of Colorado Boulder research has discovered that flushing a commode without lids, mainly in public toilets, triggers a plume of tiny invisible water droplets containing a range of microbes like E coli, C difficile, noroviruses and adenoviruses, some highly infectious. They used bright green lasers and camera equipment, in their experiment to reveal how the tiny water droplets, invisible to the naked eye. This is the first such study to directly observe flush-triggered aerosol plumes and measure the speed and spread of particles within it. These aerosolised particles are known to transport the pathogens, exposing the public bathroom users. While the virus that causes COVID-19 is present in human waste, there is yet no conclusive evidence to show it spreads through toilets.

VACANCIES

A parliamentary panel has expressed concern over vacancies at various hospitals under the Health Ministry, saying it must have bearing on the administrative efficiency and overall functioning of these facilities

BJP rebels changed 'riwaaj' in favour of Congress

Despite two heavyweights, JP Nadda and Anurag Thakur coming from Himachal, the party could not change tradition of taking turns to rule

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE BJP hadn't imagined it that the Gujarat storm would vanish so vainly in the small Himlayan state of Himachal Pradesh. The 'double-engine' oxymoron and the 'riwaaj badal rha hai (the tradition is changing, a persuasive self-declaration against two parties taking turns to rule)' suffered such a heavy blow that by the time a chilling winter evening set in over Shimla, a long-faced Jai Ram Thakur, the CM, called it a day, handing his papers to the Governor.

It happened in a state that prides itself on two BJP heavyweights – party chief JP Nadda and Union minister Anurag Thakur. For the party, the opposition Congress had been browbeaten and was rudderless after the death of former CM Virbhadra Singh. Thursday gave the saffron party a rude jolt: the Congress led by Pratibha Singh not only proved the revolving-door power-sharing tradition between the two parties but also gave enough evidence that the party is alive and kicking.

The score stood for Congress 40 and BJP 25 in the 68-member Assembly.

BJP leaned heavily on Modi, Cong raised local issues

Observers attribute Congress' victory to its ability to successfully raise local issues. The BJP leaned heavily on Modi, who put everything in him to bring rebels around, but it was too late.

The saffron camp could hardly draw any solace from the fact that among the winners, there were three party rebels.

Observers attribute Congress' victory to its ability to successfully raise local issues. The BJP leaned heavily on Modi, who put everything in him to bring rebels around, but it was too late.

"The mismanagement within the BJP started to show with miscalculated nominations: those denied the ticket fielded themselves at 21 places, denting the party prospects," says political analyst Harish Thakur.

As the nerve-center of Himachal politics, Kangra, the BJP that had won a dozen seats in 2017 could win only four seats. The Congress' populist campaign to revive the Old Pension Scheme (OPS) went against the ruling BJP as the state has a large chunk of government employees. Ditto was the case with Centre's launch of an unpopular Agniveer plan for the youth.

Observers also point to BJP-versus-BJP tussle involving rival camps of Nadda and the one led by former CM Prem Kumar Dhumal, Anurag Thakur's father.

Outgoing CM Jai Ram Thakur is considered close to Nadda. In the ticket distribution, the Dhumal camp was not reportedly accommodated adequately, antagonising a section of the party.

Analysts say the other mistake the saffron party made was keeping Dhumal out of the elections. The party could not get a convincing lead in the three districts of Hamirpur, Una and Bilaspur. In Hamirpur, the home district of Dhumal and Anurag Thakur, four seats went to Congress and another was bagged by an Independent. In Una again, the Congress bagged four seats while BJP got only one. In Bilaspur, the home district of BJP chief JP Nadda, the BJP bagged three seats while one went to Congress.

Fraud: HC slaps ₹50K fine on Facebook

Facebook has received a fine of ₹50,000 for failing to reply to a notice from Nainital High Court over a fraud allegation raised by a Haridwar resident. The HC had on Wednesday heard a Public Interest Litigation (PIL) filed against publishing of morphed photos via fake Facebook IDs. The social-media giant has failed to reply to the HC notice from way back in September 2021. Now, the HC has directed a fresh deadline to Facebook which will have to submit a reply by February 16 next year.

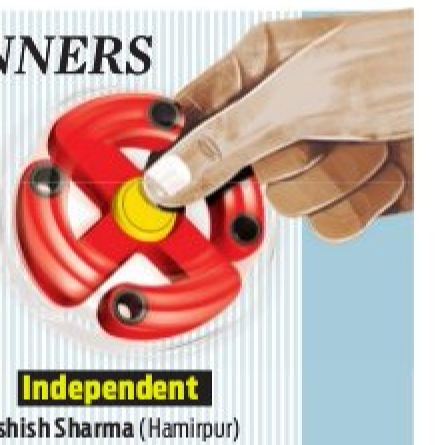
Haridwar police bid adieu to Raja

Raja, a horse of the state police's mounted force, passed away on Thursday at the age of 24 – after a long 20.5 years in service. The much-admired and respected horse had joined the state police after undergoing training at PTC Moradabad in 2003. Raja had rendered excellent service during the last two Maha Kumbhs in Haridwar, two Ardh Kumbhs – including all the bath events during this period. Raja, which had also served in Dehradun district, was unwell for some time.

PWD minister irked at road work done

State PWD minister Satpal Maharaj, who is known to be composed, recently grew furious during an inspection – when he identified that substandard materials were used in road work. Maharaj directed to demolish the 10-m road in Pauri district due to poor quality of the road, after which the tarmac was removed. Apparently, videos of the shoddy road work undertaken had went viral, which prompted Maharaj to take cognizance of the matter.

HIMACHAL WINNERS



Congress

- Mukesh Agnihotri(Haroli)
- Vikramaditya Singh (Shimla Rural)
- Anirudh Singh (Kasumpti)
- Kuldeep Rathore (Theog)
- Kewal Singh Pathania (Kangra)

BJP

- Jairam Thakur (Sera)
- Anil Sharma (Mandi Sadar)
- D S Thakur (Dalhousie)

Independent

- Ashish Sharma (Hamirpur)

Quick takes

- CM contenders are five-time Haroli MLA and outgoing CLP leader Mukesh Agnihotri, former state Congress president and campaign panel chief Sukhwinder Singh Sukhu and Mandi MP Pratibha Singh
- Veteran Congress leader Dhani Ram Shandil retained Solan seat defeating his son-in-law and BJP candidate Rajesh Kashyap. Shandil, a retired Army colonel, had maintained a lead over Kashyap right from the start and finally won by 3,858 votes
- Former CM Virbhadra Singh's son Vikramaditya Singh (Congress), from Rampur Bushahr's erstwhile royal family, won from Shimla rural. Anirudh Singh of the erstwhile royal family of Koti won from Kasumpti. Another erstwhile royal of Kullu, Hiteshwar Singh, an independent, lost from the Banjar seat

Again, Kangra plays the kingmaker

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

Old Pension Scheme crucial to Congress' victory

The New Pension Scheme was crucial to the Congress' victory, according to political analysts. The Old Pension Scheme figured as a prominent election promise by the Congress during the campaign. The grand old party had promised to restore the scheme in Gujarat and Himachal Pradesh if it came to power.

KANGRA district is the kingmaker in the Himachal Pradesh elections and this time also it held to its previous reputation as out of 15 seats in the district, which are the highest in any district of the state, the Congress won 10. The grand old party won 40 out of 68 seats.

The Congress won Indora, Fathepur, Jawali, Shahpur, Dharamsala, Nagrota-Bhagwan, Palampur, Baijnath, Jaisinghpur and Jawalamukhi. While the ruling BJP could only win four seats including, Nurpur, Sulah, Jaswanpragpur in Kangra, and while Dehra was won by an independent candidate Hoshyar Singh who defeated Congress candidate Rajesh Sharma by 4,024 votes.

In the 2017 assembly polls, the BJP had won 12 seats from Kangra, while two seats were won by Congress and one by independent.

According to political analysts, the New Pension Scheme was crucial to the Congress' victory. The Old Pension Scheme figured as a prominent election promise by the Congress in the Assembly election. The party had promised to restore it in Gujarat and Himachal Pradesh if it came to power. The Central University, which is headquartered in Dharamsala but is currently operating from a temporary campus in Shahpur, Kangra, was the second major problem.

While in the neighbouring district of Mandi, which is the home district of outgoing chief minister Jai Ram Thakur, the safforn party did well as it got nine seats out of 10 and one went to the Congress. The BJP won due to the CM factor and aggressive camping, besides projects given to the district. While in Kullu district both BJP and Congress got two seats each and the local issues were dominant there. There was factionalism in the Congress' Ani assembly seat of the district thus the party lost this seat to sitting MLA Kishori Lal, who fought the election as an independent. In Kinnaur and Lahaul-Spiti, the Congress won as the environmental issues dominated these tribal regions with the voters asking the candidates to clarify their stand on new hydroelectric projects and implementation of the Forest Rights Act.While in Hamirpur, the home district of Union Minister Anurag Thakur Congress won four assembly seats and one went to independent.

In Una, four seats were won by the Congress and one by the BJP. In Shimla district, the Congress won seven out of eight seats due to the apple growers' agitation over GST imposed on the apple packing.

MAINPURI REMAINS WITH MULAYAM FAMILY, NITISH GETS BYPOLL JOLT

LOK SABHA

DIMPLE YADAV
(Uttar Pradesh/Mainpuri)
Samajwadi Party

Dimple Yadav takes over father-in-law Mulayam's political legacy with aplomb by defeating Raghuraj Shakya of BJP by a massive margin of over two lakh votes.

The people of Mainpuri paid a heartfelt tribute to Mulayam Singh Yadav by choosing his daughter-in-law as the winner from the Lok Sabha seat. As per the political pundits, Dimple Yadav got sympathy votes in Mainpuri which has been the Samajwadi Party bastion. Mulayam Singh Yadav had represented Mainpuri for five times in Lok Sabha. This was Mainpuri's first election without Mulayam Singh Yadav, since 1967. Mulayam's son Akhilesh Yadav, who has been leading the party since 2017, had been pinning hope both on sympathy and on the caste arithmetic in the Yadav-dominated constituency, which has been loyal to the party. Even the ruling BJP chose Raghuraj Singh Shakya as the Shakya community is the second-largest electorate after Yadavs in Mainpuri. The election had been a straight BJP-SP fight as the two other main parties, Congress and Bahujan Samaj Paty, had decided to stay away and had not fielded their candidates in any of the seats.

KEDAR PRASAD GUPTA
(Bihar/ Kurhani)
BJP

With the win of BJP's Kedar Prasad Gupta, the ruling 'Mahagathbandhan' received a setback when it lost the Kurhani seat to the BJP, a party CM Nitish Kumar broke up with barely four months ago. Kumar's JD(U) blamed on 'local factors' for the defeat. The by-election was necessitated by the disqualification of Anil Kumar Sahani of RJD.

SAVITRI MANOJ MANDAVI
(Chhattisgarh/ Bhanupratapur)
Congress

The Congress retained the Bhanupratappur seat by defeating the BJP. With this, the opposition BJP has suffered a fifth successive defeat at the hands of the ruling Congress in the assembly bypolls held after the 2018 Chhattisgarh elections. The byelection was necessitated due to the death of sitting Congress MLA Manoj Singh Mandavi.

BARSHA SINGH BARIHA
(Odisha/Padampur)
Biju Janata Dal

The BJD steamrolled the BJP in Padampur bypoll as Barsha Singh Bariha defeated Pradeep Purohit of the saffron party by a margin of 42,679 votes to retain the seat for the ruling party. The bypoll was necessitated by the death of sitting MLA Bijaya Ranjan Singh Bariha. The poll outcome has dealt a blow to the BJP after the Dhamnagar bypoll success.

ANIL KUMAR SHARMA
(Rajasthan/ Sardarshahar)
Congress

Congress's Anil Sharma defeated BJP's Ashok Kumar Pincha by a margin of 26,852 votes in Sardarshahar. The bypoll was held after the death of Anil's father and senior Congress leader MLA Bhanwarlal Sharma. This was the first Assembly elections for Anil. In the 9 bypolls held in Rajasthan in the last four years, the Congress has won 7 times, and the BJP has won just 1.

MADAN BHAIYA
(Uttar Pradesh/Khatauli)
Rashtriya Lok Dal

BJP failed to retain Khatauli as Rajkumari Saini, wife of 2013 Muzaffarnagar riots convict and MLA Vikram Saini, lost to Rashtriya Lok Dal's Madan Bhaiyya, who had been fielded despite major opposition by the party members. Khatauli has more than 1.5 lakh OBC voters and Muslims constitute the single largest electorates with 80,000 voters.

AKASH SAXENA (HONEY)
(Uttar Pradesh/Rampur)
BJP

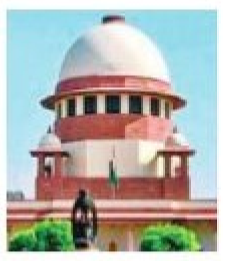
BJP breached the impregnable fort of SP's Mohd Azam Khan in Rampur Sadar as Akash Saxena defeated SP's Asim Raza, a close confidante of Azam Khan, by a margin of 33,738 votes. The bypoll was held after the disqualification of Azam following his conviction in 2019 hate speech case. Asim accused police of intimidating voters.

Collegium system law of land, has to be followed: SC

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

Taking exceptions against the statements that have been made by constitutional functionaries on the Supreme Court scrapping the law that paved the way for National Judicial Appointment Commission, the Supreme Court on Thursday asked Attorney General R Venkataramani to advise the ministers to exercise some control.

Emphasising on the fact that the collegium system is the law of the land and should be followed to the teeth, a bench of Justices SK Kaul, AS Oka and Vikram Nath said that the recent statements, which have been made by public functionaries are not being taken very well.



"Speeches made by the high constitutional functionaries in public making comments on SC collegium are not very well taken… The law of the land has to be followed. We have to go today not by what grievances you may have or what people may speak about the collegium system rightly or wrongly, right place or wrong place," the bench remarked.

The SC's comments came pursuant to Senior Advocate Vikas Singh terming the statements by functionaries as "upsetting". "Constitutional functionaries are making statements that SC doesn't have judicial review. I don't understand how views are expressed openly like this. This is the basic structure of the constitution. It's a little upsetting the way things are. It will lead to complete anarchy," Singh had said.

On Wednesday, VP Jagdeep Dhankar in his maiden speech in the Rajya Sabha had termed SC striking down NJAC as a glaring instance of "severe compromise" of Parliamentary sovereignty. The Union Law Minister Kiren Rijiju on certain occasions has criticised the present system of selection of judges through the collegium system by calling it "opaque" and "unaccountable".

Asking AG to advise the functionaries, the bench said, "Till the collegium system is there and till it is upheld, we have to enforce it. You want to bring in another law, none stops you from bringing in another law. Our job as judge of the SC is to enforce the law as it exists today. If you don't do that then we have no right to enforce the law, which you lay down…"

WHO: Malaria deaths dip in 2021, India records highest cases in southeast region

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

MALARIA-related deaths dipped slightly in 2021 after an increase in the first year of Covid-19, according to the World Health Organisation (WHO) on Thursday. However, in its World Malaria Report 2022, the WHO said the deaths remained higher than the pre-pandemic estimated toll.

The report said in 2021, the South-East Asia Region had nine malaria-endemic countries that contributed to about 2% of the burden of malaria globally.

Most cases in the region were concentrated in India (79%).

The report said that Insecticide-treated bednets (ITNs) are the primary vector control tool used in most malaria-endemic countries, but seven countries did not distribute any. India figured in this list along with Pakistan, Sierra Leone, Chad and Haiti.

Eight countries, including Indonesia, Nigeria, Thailand and Uganda, contributed less than 60 per cent, the report highlighted.

Between 2020 and 2021, there was an increase of approximately 4 lakh cases in the South-East Asia Region; over half of these cases were reported in Myanmar. Case increases were also seen in Bangladesh, the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, India and Indonesia, the report added.

Last year, there were 247 million malaria cases compared to 245 million patients in 2020, while malaria deaths stood at 6,190,00 in 2021 as compared to 6,250,00 in 2020.

Firefighter passes out while battling blaze, dies

A full-time national serviceman firefighter in Singapore died after he fell unconscious while battling a blaze. The Singapore Civil Defence Force (SCDF) informed that they were called to the fire at 91 Henderson Road. A 4th floor flat had caught fire. During the operation, the firefighter fell unconscious. He was immediately taken out of the unit and given cardiopulmonary resuscitation, SCDF said. He was taken to Singapore General Hospital but was pronounced dead by doctors

US BASKETBALL STAR GRINER FREED BY RUSSIA IN DRAMATIC PRISONER SWAP

Washington releases arms dealer Viktor Bout from custody as part of deal with Moscow

WASHINGTON/MOSCOW

US basketball star Brittney Griner is "safe" and headed home to the United States after being freed from a Russian prison ordeal in a swap for the notorious arms dealer Viktor Bout, the two countries announced on Thursday.

President Joe Biden delivered an early-morning address to the nation to announce the breakthrough, and said he had spoken to Griner just "moments ago".

"She is safe. She is on a plane. She is on her way home," Biden said, adding that she should be back in the United States within 24 hours.

The Olympic legend and LGBT trailblazer, who was being held in a remote penal colony, was arrested at a Moscow airport in February and handed nine years in prison in August for possessing vape cartridges with a small quantity of cannabis oil. Biden said she would need time to recover from "needless trauma" after time spent in Russia's IK-2 penal colony, a facility in the town of Yavas in the central region of Mordovia.

Reporting that Griner was in "good spirits" Biden said she deserved "space, privacy and time with her loved ones to recover and heal from her time being wrongfully detained."

Biden was flanked by Griner's wife Cherelle Griner as well as Vice President Kamala Harris and Secretary of State Antony Blinken.

"I'm just standing here, overwhelmed with emotions," Cherelle Griner said, describing the ordeal of her wife's imprisonment as "one of the darkest moments of my life."

Britnney Griner

Moscow confirmed it had exchanged Griner for Bout, who was serving a 25-year sentence in the United States.

Despite the heightened mood, Biden also conceded that the United States had not yet succeeded in freeing Paul Whelan, a retired US Marine arrested in December 2018 and accused of spying. Cherelle Griner acknowledged his fate, saying: "Today my family is whole, but as you all are aware there's so many other families who are not whole."

When Griner was arrested, the two-time Olympic basketball gold medalist and Women's NBA champion had been in Russia to play for the professional Yekaterinburg team, during her off-season from the Phoenix Mercury.

She pleaded guilty to the charges, but said she did not intend to break the law or use the banned substance in Russia.

Griner had testified that she had permission from a US doctor to use medicinal cannabis to relieve pain from her many injuries, and had never failed a drug test. The use of medical marijuana is not allowed in Russia. Moscow said it had been negotiating with Washington to secure Bout's release "for a long time" and that initially the US had "refused dialogue" on including him in any swap. "Nevertheless, the Russian Federation continued to actively work to rescue our compatriot. The Russian citizen has been returned to his homeland," the defence ministry said. AFP

Putin vows to press on with Ukraine attacks

The Kremlin said on Thursday it's up to Ukraine's president to end the conflict in the country, suggesting terms that Kyiv has repeatedly rejected, while Russian President Vladimir Putin vowed to press on with the fighting despite Western criticism. Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov said Zelenskyy knows when it may end, it may end tomorrow if he wishes so. Speaking to reporters, Peskov said Moscow wasn't aiming to grab new lands

Russian nuclear threat reduced: Scholz

Berlin: German Chancellor Olaf Scholz said in an interview published Thursday. "One thing has changed for the time being: Russia has stopped threatening to use nuclear weapons. In response to the international community marking a red line," Scholz said in the interview with Germany's Funke media group. Asked whether the threat of a nuclear escalation had been averted, Scholz replied: "For the time being, we have put a stop to it"

Lawmakers impeach Peru prez, V-P emerges as successor

LIMA

PERU'S new President Dina Boluarte was under pressure on Thursday to calm the political turmoil in the country, a day after the dramatic arrest of her predecessor, who stands accused of attempting a coup. The country's first-ever woman leader asked the opposition for a truce as she prepared to form a government, as doubt hung over her ability to survive the political firestorm ignited by Pedro Castillo.

Castillo tried to dissolve parliament and rule by decree, but his efforts were quickly stamped out by lawmakers who voted him out of office in a dizzying day of high drama, by the end of which former vice president Boluarte had emerged as the new head of state. She took the oath of office within two hours of the impeachment vote, donning the presidential sash in front of Congress and vowing to serve out the rest of Castillo's term, until July 2026. AFP

Shipment seizure death knell for exports: Vivo

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

CHINESE mobilemaker Vivo has said stopping its consignment at Delhi airport by the Department of Revenue Intelligence (DRI) is death knell for the firm's exports from India.

The company, in a letter to the Cellular and Electronics Association (ICEA) alleged that the DRI has withheld the consignment of 26,840 mobile phones worth $15 million, which were to be exported to Thailand and Saudi Arabia.

The consignment is believed to have been held up due to issues of valuation and device models. The Indian authority is checking the IMEI number of each and every handset. Since the boxes are opened now, the consignment is now unfit for export. As per the reports, the company in an email to ICEA has said that the entire consignment is currently scattered at the Delhi airport, and is no longer fit for exports, until it has again been moved to factory, undergone complete inspection and then repackaged.

"This being the festive season, this action by the DRI rings a death knell for us exporting out of India unless the DRI actions at the airport do not cease immediately and our goods released," Vivo reportedly wrote in the email to ICEA.

However, Vivo has refused to comment on this matter. Almost every Chinese mobile maker, be it Oppo, Xiaomi or Vivo are under the radar of Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI) for their duty evasion.

Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman in parliament (Monsoon session) said the DRI issued notice to Oppo for a total customs duty of ₹4,389 crore on the grounds of misdeclaration of certain goods, leading to a short payment in duties. Duty evasion by Oppo is of ₹2,981 crore. The DRI detected customs duty evasion of nearly ₹2,217 crore by Vivo Mobile India. ED seized ₹5,551.27 crore from Xiaomi Technology India Pvt Ltd – a wholly-owned subsidiary of the China-based Xiaomi group – under the Foreign Exchange Management Act (FEMA) in connection with illegal remittances made by the firm in February this year. India has also banned more than 300 Chinese apps, including Tencent's WeChat and ByteDance's TikTok.

BharatPe files criminal complaint against Grover

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THE tussle between BharatPe and Ashneer Grover continues, as the fintech unicorn has filed a civil suit and a criminal complaint against the former MD, wife Madhuri Jain, and other family members for misappropriation of company funds.

BharatPe has sought over ₹88 crore in damages from them.

The Delhi High Court on Thursday issued summons and asked Grovers to file their response within two weeks. The next hearing will be in January 2023. The 2,800-page civil suit in the high court alleges misappropriation of company funds by Grover and his family members.

The company also filed a criminal complaint with the Economic Offences Wing (EOW) on 17 counts, including cheating, siphoning, criminal breach of trust and embezzlement of funds, against Ashneer Grover and family.

BharatPe spokesperson said, "BharatPe has initiated civil and criminal action against erstwhile co-founder and managing director, Ashneer Grover, former Head of Controls, Madhuri Jain Grover, and other connected parties of their family for various claims, including misappropriation of company funds."

"We have full faith in the courts and authorities and are confident that justice will be done," the spokesperson added.

From the beginning of this year, BharatPe and Grover have been hogging the limelight for controversies. It all started with an audio clip, allegedly of Grover, threatening a Kotak Mahindra Bank employee after missing out on Nykaa's IPO.

Days after that Grover took a voluntary leave of absence until the end of March. Within a few weeks, BharatPe's board ordered an independent audit of the firm's internal process. The company through its legal firm, Shardul Amarchand Mangaldas appointed Alvarez and Marsal, a leading management consultant and risk advisory firm to advise the Board on its recommendations.

Air India plans $400 mn fleet cabin makeover

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

AIR INDIA (AI) has committed to spend $400 million (about ₹3200 crore) to give cabins of its wide body fleet, comprising 27 Boeing B787-8 and 13 B777 aircraft, a makeover and introduce a premium economy service on medium and long-haul routes.

The full-service carrier, which underwent ownership transfer in January from the government to Tata Group, trails much behind Gulf and European carriers when it comes to offering premium services on its flight.

This, as per many aviation experts, has resulted in loss of market share for Air India in the overseas market. Currently, AI carries nearly 11% of all international traffic to and from India and it has ambitions to take this share to 30% in next five years. The airline said the refurbishment includes the addition of latest generation seats and best in-class inflight entertainment across all classes. The first class cabin will also be retained on 777s.

AI has engaged leading London-based product design companies, JPA Design and Trendworks, to assist with the cabin interior design elements of this refurbishment programme. This lengthy process and the time required to manufacture seats is expected to lead to the first aircraft entering service in mid-2024. Campbell Wilson, MD & CEO of AI, said, "We know, at present, the cabin product on our 40 legacy widebody aircraft falls short of this standard." "We are working with partners to accelerate the refit process as fast as possible and, in the meantime, leasing in at least 11 new widebody aircraft with brand new interiors to improve our offering," added Wilson.

Edtech funding drops 39% in 2022, says report

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

FUNDING in the edtech sector has witnessed a significant drop, about 39%, in 2022 compared to last year. According to market intelligence firm Tracxn report, about 70% of funding is made up of five $100+ million rounds raised by edtech firms Byju's, Upgrad, LEAD School and PhysicsWallah.

The sector has been struggling ever since schools and colleges reopened after the pandemic, forcing many companies to fire employees to reduce operational costs.

The report also says, in 2022, Indian start-ups have raised $24.7 billion in funds, which is 35% lower compared to the same period last year ($37.2 billion). It attributes the drop to a decline in late-stage investments that fell by 45% from $29.3 billion in January-November 2021 to $16.1 billion for the same period in 2022.

Reliance Capital's general insurance biz seeks ₹600 crore fund infusion

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

RELIANCE GENERAL INSURANCE COMPANY (RGICL) has sought an urgent ₹600 crore capital infusion from its parent firm Reliance Capital, which is itself undergoing a corporate insolvency resolution process.

Sources told this newspaper that RGICL has written a letter to the Reliance Capital administrator -- Y Nageshwar Rao – seeking a ₹600 crore capital support from the parent company (Reliance Capital) by December 31, 2022. The general insurance firm has said the fund infusion is essential to preserve the business, enhance value and take its solvency from 155% to about 175%.

The company has in the letter said that the borderline solvency ratio (minimum solvency required by an insurance company is 150% of the total insurance cover offered) has become an impediment for the business growth of the company as large corporate and government clients are showing hesitancy in doing business with it. Reliance General Insurance believes that the capital infusion from the existing stakeholders of the company will send a strong message of support to the market, and will allow it to outperform the market growth rate.

The letter further says the capital infusion will also augment value creation and negate the risk of underperforming the broader markets.

As per sources, the Committee of Creditors (COC) is expected to consider and discuss the request of Reliance General Insurance for capital infusion in the meeting on 9 December 2022. The firm has told the Reliance Capital administrator that as a large format insurer it can gain significantly in the current ecosystem if it can pursue growth like most of its peer competitors, but that would require adequate capital support from Reliance Capital.

RIL, Adani firms biggest wealth creators in 2017-22

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

MUKESH AMBANI-promoted Reliance Industries (RIL) and Gautam Adami-led Adani Enterprises (AEL) were ranked as the biggest and most consistent wealth creators, respectively, during the 2017-22 period, according to brokerage firm Motilal Oswal.

In the report titled 'Motilal Oswal Annual Wealth Creation Study 2022', RIL grabbed the top spot in the list of the biggest wealth creators during 2017-22 period, accounting for ₹13.02 lakh crore out of the ₹92.2 lakh crore wealth created by India's top 100 listed firms.

This is for the fourth time in succession and ninth in last 16 five-year study periods when RIL has emerged the biggest wealth creator. As in past few studies, TCS, Infosys and HDFC Bank remained among the top 5 wealth creators.

AEL topped the list of the most consistent wealth creators. The Adani Group flagship was also the third fastest wealth creator. According to the report, AEL has outperformed the BSE Sensex in all the last five years, and has the highest price CAGR of 97%. Other most consistent wealth creators during 2017-22 were Alkyl Amines, Coforge, Mindtree and L&T Infotech.

Adani Transmission came in as the fastest wealth creator during the five year period with 2017-22 price CAGR of 106%, the report highlighted. Tanla Platforms, Adani Enterprises, Brightcom Group and Tata Tele. (Mah.) were some of the other firms in the fastest wealth creator list. If ₹10 lakh was invested in 2017 in the top 10 fastest growing companies equally it would be worth ₹2.1 crore in 2022, a return CAGR of 84% as against a 15% return for the BSE Sensex. Wealth created, in the study, is calculated as change in the market cap of companies between 2017 and 2022 (March ending), duly adjusted for corporate events such as mergers, de-mergers, fresh issuance of capital, buyback, etc. The pace of wealth creation at 28% CAGR is the highest in the last eight years.

NATURAL GAS

Import dependence falls from 48% to 46% in FY23

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIA'S import dependency based on consumption for natural gas has decreased from 48.2% in financial year 2021-22 to 46.3% in financial year 2022-23 (April to October), said Minister of State for Petroleum and Natural Gas Rameswar Teli on Thursday.

The minister, in a written reply to Lok Sabha, also said the government is taking multiple steps to boost domestic production of natural gas. "Government has taken multiple steps/ launched various policy initiatives to increase domestic production of natural gas and adopted strategies for promotion of biofuels. These, inter-alia, include support for compressed biogas, national gas grid for pipeline infrastructure, city gas distribution networks and LNG regasification terminals are being developed to ensure availability of gas to all demand centres," said the minister.

He further said that under production and revenue sharing contract regimes, hydrocarbon (oil and gas) exploration activities are carried out by the operating companies.

As reported by operating companies, an investment of nearly $1.8 billion (provisional) has been made in exploration activities in the last five years.

On minimising crude import, the minister said the government has adopted a five-pronged strategy increasing domestic production of oil and gas, promoting energy efficiency and conservation measures, giving thrust on demand substitution, promoting biofuels and other alternate fuels/renewables, and refinery process improvements.

Govt allows 100% work from home for IT units in special economic zones

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE Ministry of Commerce and Industry has finally cleared the air around work-from-home facility to be provided by units in special economic zones (SEZs).

Units in SEZs can allow their employees, who work in IT or ITeS (information technology enabled services) space; who are temporarily incapacitated, travelling or working off-site, according to the ministry notification issued in this regard on Thursday.

The permission for work from home has been granted for a period of one year, i.e up to December 31, 2023.

"Where a unit permits its employees for work from home or from any place outside the special economic zone under this rule, it shall intimate the same to the development commissioner through an email on or before the date on which the facility for work from home or from any place outside the SEZ is permitted," the notification said.

"Provided that where a unit has permitted its employees for work from home or from any place outside the SEZ, before the commencement of SEZ (fifth amendment) rules, 2022 and permits its employees for work from home or from any place outside the SEZ under this rule, it shall intimate the same to the development commissioner through email on or before the January 31,2023," it further stated.

The unit may provide to an employee duty-free goods, including laptops, desktops, and other electronic equipment needed by the employee for work from home or from any place outside the SEZ and the same should be allowed to be taken outside the SEZ without payment of duty or integrated goods and services tax on temporary basis.

However, the units will have to ensure that such duty-free goods are duly accounted for in the appropriate records as per the extant rules and are available for verification.

Paytm to consider share buyback on December 13

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ONE 97 COMMUNICATIONS, which operates under the brand Paytm, will hold a board meet on December 13 to consider a proposal for a share buyback, the company disclosed this to the exchanges on December 8.

The buyback proposal from the fintech major comes after shares of the firm shel about 75% of its value since its high profile listing in November 2021.

With its m-cap shedding over ₹1 lakh crore in value, the stock has emerged as one of the biggest wealth destroyers of recent times.

India could be next superpower in AI, says IBM India MD

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

IN 2023, emerging technologies such as automation, artificial intelligence (AI), 5G/6G, augmented/virtual reality and robotics will be a game changer and many enterprises are now focusing on these technologies.

India can become a considerable force in AI, said experts.

Sandip Patel, managing director, IBM India and South Asia, said, "If you look at patents, 5,000 patents have been filed in AI from India in the last decade, according to industry reports. India is at a point where it can become a considerable force in the area of AI innovation." Speaking at the AI Day event, organised by IBM on Thursday, Patel said IT buyers are expecting the share of emerging tech to grow by three times from the present 10% to 30% in the next four to six years, driven by higher efficiency that they are looking for from these technologies.

Recently, Nasscom and BCG released a report that identified 12 emerging technologies such as AR&VR, Autonomous Driving, Autonomous analytics, Space Tech, Smart Robots and 5G/6G, among others. "India can be a superpower in the domain," Patel said, stressing on 3As - AI, Analytics and Automation.

Viswanath Ramaswamy, VP, technology, IBM India and South Asia, said a robust ecosystem for AI is being built in India. "When deployed appropriately, AI and Automation can transform government services, education, healthcare, and business interactions with customers in the upcoming techade," he said, adding, if data is the oil then AI is the new electricity. Experts also spoke about synthetic data that are computer generated ones that can improve accuracy and mitigate bias and security weaknesses.

About 57% of IT professionals in India report that their organisation has actively deployed AI in their business, and 27% indicate that their organisation is exploring the use of AI, according to IBM's Global AI Adoption Index 2022.

Sensex, Nifty close with minor gains amid election results

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

RULING party BJP's thumping majority in Gujarat didn't bring any major cheer in Dalal Street.

The benchmark indices- BSE Sensex and NSE Nifty- barely managed to end higher today after four straight sessions of losses. Few analysts were expecting that a win by the PM Modi-led party in the Gujarat election would hint stability in the investment rich state and signal its strength before heading towards the 2024 general elections, a big positive among stock market investors. BJP, however, lost assembly elections to Congress Party in Himachal Pradesh.

On the back of buying seen across select banking and auto stocks, Sensex rose 160 points to settle at 62,570.68 while the Nifty50 advanced 48.85 points to end at 18,609.35. In the Sensex pack, Axis Bank, IndusInd Bank, L&T, SBI, ICICI Bank and M&M were top gainers while Sun Pharma, Power Grid, TCS and Nestle India closed with maximum losses.

"After touching a record high, the domestic market experienced significant volatility as global markets tumbled due to fear of an economic slowdown and worries over a Fed rate hike. Recession fears weighed on IT and pharma stocks while banks, especially PSBs, continued to support the bourses," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services. "This volatility is expected to sustain in the global market as we await the Fed policy decision and US inflation numbers due next week," he added.

Qatar FIFA WORLD CUP FINALS 2022

Brazil's forward Neymar (R) takes part in a training session at the Al Arabi SC Stadium in Doha ahead of the quarterfinal clash against Croatia | AFP

Flair vs steel: Neymar & Co face Croatia test

ANDY SCOTT @ Doha

BRAZIL head into Friday's World Cup quarterfinal against Croatia brimming with confidence after Neymar's return inspired a performance laced with swagger and arrogance in the last 16.

Their eye-catching 4-1 victory against South Korea, which featured goals by Vinicius Junior, Richarlison and Lucas Paqueta as well as a Neymar penalty, sent out an ominous message to their rivals in Qatar.

The football, for 45 minutes at least, was free-flowing and full of joy, the players celebrating their goals by showing off their dance moves and even getting Tite, their 61-year-old coach, to join in. So thrilling were the Selecao at Doha's Stadium 974 that their performance drew comparisons in some quarters with the very best and most entertaining Brazil sides, from the 1970 team of Pele to the 1982 vintage led by Socrates.

Yet it was just one game, and it came after the five-time champions scored just three goals in three group matches and also lost to Cameroon, their first defeat in the opening round at a World Cup since 1998.

Brazil will surely settle for a simple victory without the exhibition football when they take on 2018 runners-up Croatia at Education City Stadium, mindful of results at recent World Cups.

Since they won their fifth title in 2002, Brazil have gone out each time to European opponents, including a 7-1 humiliation at the hands of Germany on home soil in 2014 and a defeat by Belgium four years ago in Russia.

Neymar returned to the starting line-up for the last 16 after suffering an ankle injury in the opening 2-0 victory over Serbia, while the return of Danilo at left-back was almost significant.

Tite has lost another full-back, Alex Telles, for the rest of the tournament but another, Alex Sandro, is training again and hopes to be back.

If that is the case then Danilo will switch over to right-back and Eder Militao should drop out of the side.

Croatia made it to the final four years ago after being taken to extra time in three consecutive matches and they required an extra half hour as well as penalties to get the better of Japan in the last 16 on Monday. The fear now is that this game might be a step too far for Zlatko Dalic's resilient side, who have much the same spine as four years ago and are still led by the 37-year-old Luka Modric.

"I think everyone in the world knows the value of Luka Modric. He's our leader, our best player, and we're proud to have him on the field," said Mateo Kovacic.

"We are accustomed to very tough physical games in the Premier League and that's something that we want to show against Brazil," the Chelsea player added.

"We want to show our technical quality too but we want to show our physical quality in every duel and in possession." Whatever happens, reaching this stage on the back of their 2018 exploits is an achievement worth celebrating for the nation of just four million people.

But Croatia, who have lost just once since last year's European Championship, believe they can compete and may use their Nations League win over France in Paris in June as an example to follow. "We had a really good game there, with important ball possession too, and we need to keep the ball against Brazil," said Kovacic.

"This is Brazil, we can follow that blueprint but it will be a different game." AFP

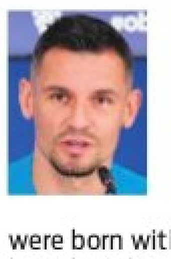
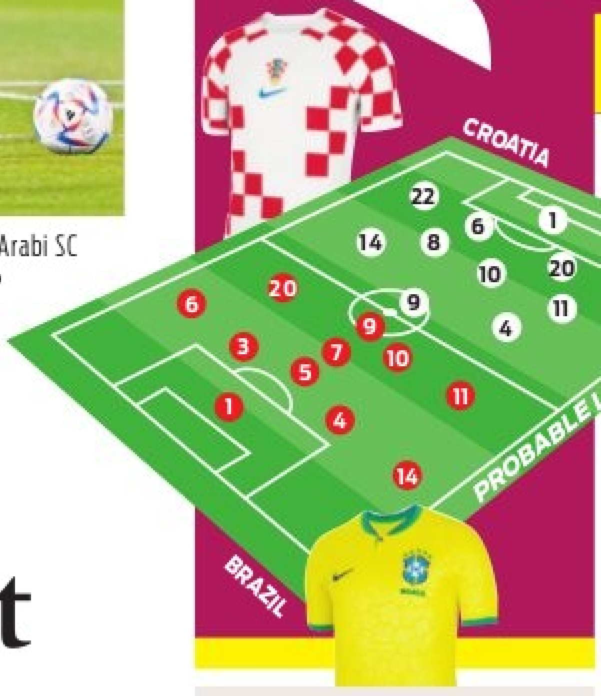
Brazil dancing not disrespectful: Lovren



DOHA: Croatia defender Dejan Lovren said Brazil players' celebratory dancing after scoring goals is not disrespectful, ahead of their World Cup quarter-final clash on Friday. However the veteran centre-back and his side are aiming to prevent the five-time World Cup winners and tournament favourites from having the chance to celebrate. "Our goal is to try to stop the whole team, of course Brazil has a lot of individual quality, we are ready for that fight," Lovren told a press conference on Wednesday. "Honestly, everyone can do what they want to celebrate, I have no issues with that. "I don't see any disrespect. I think Brazilians were born with songs, with dancing, it's part of their culture." Lovren has played with several Brazilians during his time at Liverpool and at current club Zenit Saint Petersburg, and he says they have exchanged messages.



Croatia: Livakovic (1), Juranovic (22), Lovren (6), Gvardiol (20), Sosa (19), Kovacic (8), Modric (10), Brozovic (11), Livaja (14), Perisic (4), Kramaric (9)

Brazil: Alisson (1), Militao (14), Marquinhos (4), Thiago (3), Sandro (6), Casemiro (5), Paqueta (7), Raphinha (11), Neymar (10), Vinicius (20), Richarlison (9)

CLASH OF THE TITANS

Croatia stand between Brazil and only a third semifinal appearance this century. A look...

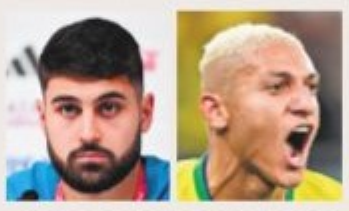
CROATIA

2018 finalists have brought an ageing team but they have all stood out in varying levels. Defender Josko Gvardiol has surely enhanced his reputation while the evergreen midfield trio continue to defy Father Time.

BRAZIL

For all their domination, they struggled for goals before a sensational four-goal first-half blitz against South Korea. Getting Neymar back has had the desired effect while Richarlison continues to purr in attack.

KEY CLASHES



GVARDIOL VS RICHARLISON

The young RB Leipzig defender has already had several goal-saving tackles and interceptions. With Richarlison bang in form, this battle assumes enormous significance.

CASEMIRO VS MODRIC

They won't generally occupy the same areas of the pitch but both their contribution is still vital, the oxygen-suppliers for both teams. And if and when Modric drives forward, Casemiro will be there.

Flick to remain Germany coach

BERLIN: Germany coach Hansi Flick will keep his job and lead the team at Euro 2024 despite their crushing World Cup disappointment, the German Football Association (DFB) said on Wednesday. "We have full confidence in Hansi Flick that he will master this challenge together with his team," Bernd Neuendorf, president of the DFB, said in a statement after a crisis meeting with Flick. The move means Flick, 57, will get the chance to seek redemption at the Euros on home soil in Germany.

BIG BOYS, GIANT CLASH

Argentina & Netherlands, two sides who have faced each other five times in previous editions, set for another potential cracker

SIMON EVANS @Doha

MERELY a glance at their iconic orange or blue and white striped shirts is enough to evoke memories of World Cups past and more history will surely be written on Friday when the Netherlands face Argentina in their quarterfinal.

Argentina have the pride that comes from being two-times world champions while the Netherlands carry the baggage of being three-times beaten finalists. The game is far from being a nostalgia-fest, however, pitting one of the greatest forwards of all time against one of the finest defenders of the modern era, with Lionel Messi trying to unpick a defence marshalled by Liverpool's Virgil van Dijk. The game also pits the youngest manager in the tournament against the oldest.Argentina's 44-year-old coach Lionel Scaloni, in his first major tournament, will have to out-think the wily 71-year-old Louis van Gaal, whose resume includes league titles with Barcelona and Bayern Munich as well as a Champions League win with Ajax.

The South Americans came into the tournament, as always, with high hopes in their homeland of a victory to match those celebrated in 1978 and 1986, while the Dutch had more tempered expectations given their failure to qualify four years ago. It has been smooth progress in Qatar for the Dutch though, who topped their group and then beat the United States in the last 16 with some comfort and style, looking solid at the back and - despite critics labelling them dull - increasingly effective in their attacking play.

With Memphis Depay's fitness gradually improving and Cody Gakpo having enjoyed a good tournament, the Dutch have a punch to their attack that many feared would be missing. Argentina began the tournament with a shock loss to Saudi Arabia but recovered to finish first in the group. Messi then turned on the style as they overcame Australia. Van Gaal unsurprisingly sees Messi's creativity as a serious threat but he raised some eyebrows when he also hinted at the seven-time Ballon d'Or winner's lack of defensive work-rate. "Messi is the most dangerous creative player, he is able to create a lot and to score goals himself. But when they lose the ball he doesn't participate much, this gives us chances", he said. Surprisingly, given their pedigree, Argentina have never beaten the Netherlands inside 90 minutes in their nine meetings in World Cup and friendly encounters.

But it is their victory on penalties in Sao Paulo in the semi-final in 2014 that lingers in the mind for Van Gaal, who was in charge of the Netherlands at the time. AFP

>
> The last time the two teams met in a World Cup quarterfinal in 1998, the Netherlands won thanks to a late goal by Dennis Bergkamp.

Van Gaal's WC filled with hugs & kisses

RONALD BLUM @ Doha

THREE wins from the title that has eluded the Netherlands, Louis van Gaal has filled his World Cup with hugs, kisses and dancing.

Leading his nation for the third time at age 71, he is the tournament's oldest coach. He also may be the most dapper, pacing the sideline in a neon orange tie, dark business suit and dress shoes.

Known as the Iron Tulip, he has entertained off the field as much as his players have on the pitch. Van Gaal responded to praise from a Senegalese reporter 25 minutes into a news conference with an excited: "Oh, I can hug you. I'll give you a big, fat hug later," according to his translator.

And after the news conference, LVG did just that, beckoning for Papa Mahmoud Gueye to meet him at the side of stage, then wrapping his arms around the 28-year-old and giving him eight pats on the back followed by a tap on the face. A few days later, Van Gaal puckered up. He was seated next to Denzel Dumfries, who scored one goal and assisted on two others in the 3-1 win over the United States that put the Dutch in the quarterfinals. A reporter from Aruba asked Van Gaal how proud he was of the defender, who has an Aruban father.

"Yesterday or a day before yesterday, I gave him a big fat kiss. I am going to give him another big fat kiss so everybody can see," the coach said. He leaned over, put an arm around the player and placed a smack near Dumfries' right ear. AP

INTRIGUING BATTLE

NETHERLANDS FACE ARGENTINA IN A WORLD CUP RIVALRY THAT IS STORIED. A LOOK...

ARGENTINA

La Albiceleste have grown into the tournament, with Lionel Messi assuming a central figure. A change of personnel — Enzo Fernandez and Julian Alvarez coming in — has also aided them in their quest to play front-foot football in the absence of Giovani Lo Celso.

NETHERLANDS

The three-time finalists are one of three sides yet to trail. Their brand of counter-attacking football allows them to soak up pressure before hitting teams on the break, like they showed so ruthlessly against the US.

Netherlands are a counter-attacking side but their right-back is one of the first players to be on their bikes when they are attacking. He's such an important outlet for crosses. Marcos Acuna (left-back) & Co have to find a way to pin him back.

DE JONG vs MESSI

The one direct confrontation that is likely to have a bearing on the match. Messi will drift, walk and try to find space where none exists. The man tasked with shadowing him will be the the man who shared space with Messi in Barcelona.

Brazil custodians in safe hands under Taffarel

AFP @ Doha

BRAZIL'S current first-choice goalkeeper Alisson Becker was still a toddler when Claudio Taffarel dived to his left to keep out Daniele Massaro's spot-kick and set up the Selecao's penalty shoot-out win over Italy in the 1994 World Cup final.

Almost three decades after helping Brazil win their fourth World Cup, Taffarel is again playing a role as the South Americans bid to lift the trophy for a record-extending sixth time. That final at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena ended 0-0 after extra time and after Taffarel's save, Dunga converted for Brazil before Roberto Baggio blazed his kick over the bar to give Brazil their first World Cup since the great side of 1970. "I used to shout 'Taffarel!' It is something that marked not only my childhood but also that of many Brazilians," Alisson, who was not even two when that final took place, told the Globo Esporte website recently as he remembered seeing the great goalkeeper in action as a youngster.

Nowadays the shaven-headed Taffarel is 56 and is the Selecao's goalkeeping coach, working with Alisson as well as Manchester City shotstopper Ederson and Weverton of Brazilian champions Palmeiras.

While the focus will always be on Brazil's free-flowing attack, Taffarel has under his charge arguably the best trio of goalkeepers in any squad at the World Cup. "He is the reference for us," says Liverpool star Alisson, who was outstanding in Monday's 4-1 last-16 win against South Korea. "What really struck me when I started to work with him in the national team was the way he passes on his knowledge so naturally, without it being forced. He has had a great impact on my development as a goalkeeper."

Widely considered to be Brazil's greatest ever goalkeeper, Taffarel has worked on the national team staff since 2014 but since last year he has shared the role with that of goalkeeping coach under Jurgen Klopp at Liverpool. "We wanted to create our own goalkeeper philosophy," Klopp said when Taffarel arrived at Anfield.

QUICK PASSES

Rice & Sterling boost for Eng

DOHA: England midfielder Declan Rice returned to training on Thursday, easing fears about his fitness ahead of Saturday's World Cup quarterfinal against France. Midfielder Kalvin Phillips told a news conference that Rice had taken part in the training session at their Al-Wakrah base. "I believe Dec is fit, he's back in training and he's fine," said Phillips, who would have been the obvious replacement for the West Ham player. Rice has been a key cog in England's midfield throughout the tournament so far, starting all four games. England should be close to having a full strength squad avaliable for the clash with Didier Deschamps' side, with forward Raheem Sterling returning to Doha on Friday.

Ronaldo denies walkout reports

DOHA: Cristiano Ronaldo said on Thursday that Portugal were "too united to be broken by outside forces" after it was reported he had threatened to walk out on the squad after being benched against Switzerland. A report from Portuguese newspaper Record said the striker had considered walking out on the team during a tense conversation with coach Fernando Santos. "It's a group too united to be broken by outside forces," he said. "A nation too courageous to let itself be frightened by any adversary. A team in the truest sense of the word, which will fight for the dream until the end."

Spain sack Enrique after WC flop

DOHA: Spain sacked coach Luis Enrique after the 2010 champions were dumped out of the World Cup by Morocco at the last-16 stage, quickly naming his replacement as under-21s boss Luis de la Fuente. Spain started their campaign in style by hammering Costa Rica 7-0 and qualified for the knockout phase despite a shock 2-1 defeat to Japan. They were favourites for their last-16 match against Morocco but crashed out on penalties after the game finished goalless following extra-time. "Both the president, Luis Rubiales, and the sporting director, Jose Francisco Molina, have told the coach their decision," the RFEF said in a statement. They said they wanted to thank Luis Enrique and his staff for their work, but had decided to start a "new project".

Maguire mockery is 'undeserved': Phillips

SIMON EVANS @ Doha

Harry Maguire

ENGLAND midfielder Kalvin Phillips has backed team-mate Harry Maguire as the much-maligned centre-half prepares for the ultimate World Cup quarter-final test against France on Saturday.

Manchester United defender Maguire has started just three games in the Premier League this season due to a combination of injury and the arrival of Argentine Lisandro Martinez, but has been solid so far for England in Qatar, where he has started every game. It marks a stark turnaround in fortunes for Maguire, who became the butt of many jokes on social media after a bad run of form last season. Phillips said Thursday he believes much of the Maguire mockery is wrong.

"I know Harry Maguire has not played as much football this season as he probably would have liked this season and he does get a lot of stick, which I think is very undeserved," Phillips told a news conference.

"I think he's a top professional and a great footballer and all you have to do is watch England in major tournaments and when he plays for Manchester United, I think, he's one of the best defenders and I think for England he's been one of the top defenders for a long time and especially in tournament level," he added.

Phillips feels Maguire, who is up against France's record goalscorer Olivier Giroud on Saturday, is a player that England can rely on. "He's always been that player that when we've got set pieces or when we need to block or when anybody needs to make a challenge, he's always the first one to do it.

"It's very undeserved. And, like I said, I think if you look at the major tournaments he's played in and how well he's done then, you can't really mock him because he's been unbelievable," Phillips added. The midfielder also had plenty of praise for his teammate and Maguire's central defensive partner John Stones. AFP

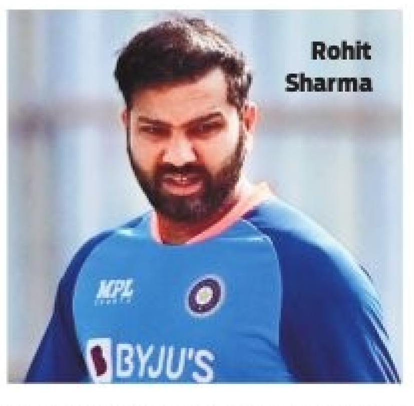
Rohit reopens fitness debate

Skipper's candid remark shines spotlight on number of Indian players with injury concerns

GOMESH S @Chennai



Rohit Sharma

AS India skipper Rohit Sharma, with a taped thumb, fought till the last ball of the 2nd ODI against Bangladesh, praises were coming in for him from all centres. To come in at No 9, knowing about his injury, the applauses were well deserved.

However, amid all the consolation comments, Rohit did not fail to see the most important issue that has cost this Indian team. "Can't afford to have half-fit players representing India," he said after the match, before adding, "(there are) few injury concerns and we need to get to the bottom of it; maybe they're playing too much cricket. It's something we have to sit down with our team at NCA and try to monitor their workload."

Although Rohit returned home, missing the rest of the tour, his argument seeks attention. For it is not just him. Deepak Chahar also walked off the field due to a similar injury he suffered last year after bowling just three overs. Kuldeep Sen, the debutant from the first match, too, was ruled out due to injury. Even before the series, they had to replace as many as three injured players — Yash Dayal, Ravindra Jadeja and Md Shami.

Which is why, even as the BCCI are contemplating to meet and review the Indian team's poor performances at the T20 World Cup and ODI-leg of the Bangladesh series after the tour, the international schedule that was announced on Thursday raised a lot of eyebrows. Starting January 3rd, India will play four Tests, nine ODIs and six T20Is at home. It comes to 35 playing days across 17 cities in 79 days. It is likely the IPL will begin less than a week after the internationals come to an end.

While it is true that the tenure of head coach Rahul Dravid and Rohit Sharma haven't reaped the results as expected so far, the hectic schedule they have across formats is a problem for both the team management as well as the cricket body. They will be playing Sri Lanka for the second time in less than 12 months and New Zealand in less than 60 days after the inconsequential white-ball series immediately after the World Cup. Since the pandemic broke, India have handed debuts to as many as 30 players, highest for any team. They have also fielded eight captains across formats. Although it could be attributed to workload management, quite a few have been related to injuries. The selections have been debatable too. Some poor calls, along with the bad performances, meant a new selection committee is expected to be in place before the end of this month. But that may not be the end of it.

As the BCCI gets together to review the performances, they might have to take a hard look at the roles and responsibilities with the team, schedule, injuries, player management and selections — all with a long-term plan in place. In a year where there is a home ODI World Cup and the prospect of another World Test Championship final, they might have to compartmentalise the goals and personnel with clear objectives. For despite all the riches, popularity and the superstars, Indian cricket have very little world dominance to show, especially in white-ball cricket. There needs to be clarity across the board if they are to have a smooth transition over the next 18 months or so either side of the World Cup.

Oz bombshell: Execs okayed tampering plan

AGENCIES @Adelaide

"TWO executives" laid the foundations for the infamous 2018 ball-tampering scandal that shook Australian cricket, batsman David Warner's manager claimed Thursday. The incident involved an attempt by Australia to illegally alter the surface of the ball with sandpaper to gain an advantage against South African during a Test in Cape Town, which was caught on camera. Warner was cast as the key villain in the scandal — dubbed "Sandpaper-gate" — having conspired with then-skipper Steve Smith and Cameron Bancroft. Like Warner, Smith was banned from playing for a year and from captaining Australia, but his punishment lasted two years while Warner's was indefinite.

"When the truth comes out, everybody is going to turn around and say, 'Well, why was David Warner picked upon?'," his manager James Erskine told sports broadcaster SEN.

Kaur & Co gear up for Oz challenge

GOMESH S @Chennai

ALMOST 21 months after their last home international game, India women will be taking the field against Australia in the first of the five T20Is starting Friday in Mumbai. In fact, it will only be their fourth T20I — ninth across formats — at home since they lost to the same opponents in the T20 World Cup final in March 2020.

In the two and a half years since that heartbreaking night, the Indian team has come a long way. At some level, it seems like they have pressed a fast forward button. Barring the core four-five players from that squad, a lot of fresh faces have come in and secured a place for themselves. They reached the Commonwealth Games final, won the Asia Cup, and now there is another T20 World Cup on the horizon.

They have, at best, 10 T20Is before the global tournament and with five of them being in South Africa means this series against Australia is essentially the last one they would be playing before finalising their squad. And they are not without chinks. Which is why, as India skipper Harmanpreet Kaur said on Thursday, it is a very important series for the hosts. "We have to play good cricket now, taking a lot of responsibility as a team. Every tournament, we are reaching finals, but we are yet to win that big trophy," said Harmanpreet. Since she took over as all-format captain, India seemed to prefer having several spin options with Renuka Singh Thakur and Pooja Vastrakar forming the pace attack. However, Pooja is not available and in her absence, they have opted for Anjali Sarvani.
